How the Plan Works

The Plan operates each year from the first business day in October through the last business day in September. Each plan year, you are offered a new opportunity to participate.

When you enroll in the Plan, you elect to contribute—via payroll deductions and on an after-tax basis—from 1% to 15% of your ELIGIBLE BASE PAY throughout the plan year. The Internal Revenue Code does not permit contributions to an employee stock purchase plan to be made on a before-tax basis.

During the period between purchases of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. shares, your contributions will earn interest at a 2% annual rate, compounded semi-monthly, if you are a regular employee, which will be applied to the funds available for purchasing Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. shares. If you are classified as a temporary employee, interest is compounded weekly, as long as you receive eligible pay.

Your calendar quarter-end balance is used to purchase shares of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. common stock each quarter at a price that is 95% of the AVERAGE MARKET PRICE of the stock on the day the stock is purchased. The purchase date is the last business day of the calendar quarter (except the purchase for the quarter ending December 31 will be made on the first business day of January). On the purchase date, your shares of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. common stock purchased with your quarter-end account balance are placed in an account with Fidelity Investments. You own these shares of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. common stock outright and can decide to sell them, hold them in your Fidelity Investments stock plan account or transfer them to another account. Generally, shares deposited on the purchase date are available on the second business day following the purchase date.

Eligibility

You may participate in the Plan on the first business day of October if you are classified as a US (regular or temporary) employee of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. or any subsidiary or affiliate of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. designated for participation in the Plan provided that:

- you began working for the Company on or before the preceding April 30 or were otherwise credited with six months VESTING SERVICE (which may include service with a business prior to its acquisition by Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc.) by the CEO or the highest ranking Human Resources officer, and
- your customary employment is not less than 20 hours a week.

You may not purchase shares under the Plan if, after such purchase, you would own Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. shares possessing 5% or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. shares.

Individuals who are independent contractors or leased employees are not eligible to participate.

If you are rehired and you had at least six months of vesting service when you left the Company, you may be eligible to participate at the start of the next plan year on the first business day of October without any prior waiting period. If you do not have a total of six months of vesting service by the first business day of October, you must wait until the next plan year to participate.

Enrollment

Once the eligibility requirements have been satisfied, you can enroll in the Plan in September during ANNUAL ENROLLMENT and choose an after-tax contribution percentage from 1% up to 15% of ELIGIBLE BASE PAY.

To enroll:

For first time enrollees – Fidelity Investments will be sending an email with the information for you to enroll.

For participants currently enrolled – If you would like to make a change to your rate:

- Go to Career & Rewards on Colleague Connect (<https://colleagueconnect.mmc.com>)
- Under Employee Stock purchase Plan, click Edit My Contributions.

“You,” “Your,” and “Employee”

As used throughout this section, “employee”, “you” and “your” always mean:

- A US (regular or temporary) employee of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. or any subsidiary or affiliate of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. eligible to participate.

Contributions

When you enroll, you can elect to contribute, on an after-tax basis, from 1% up to 15% (in 1% increments) of ELIGIBLE BASE PAY per pay period.

After I enroll in the Plan, when do contributions begin?

Once you enroll in the Plan, contributions begin in the October 15 paycheck of the plan year for regular employees. If you are classified as a temporary employee, your contributions will begin with the first weekly paycheck after the end of the ANNUAL ENROLLMENT period.

Do I earn interest on contributions?

Yes. Your payroll deductions are held by Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. and earn an annual interest rate of 2% per year; the interest is compounded based on your pay frequency. As long as you receive eligible pay, your interest is compounded semi-monthly if you are regular employee; your interest is compounded weekly if you are classified as a temporary employee.

How do I learn the dollar amount I've contributed to the Plan for the plan year?

Check your pay-stub. In the "SPP Plan Year to Date" section, the amount listed is your total contribution amount (including interest accrued) since the beginning of the current quarterly purchase period. Your per-paycheck deduction appears in the "After-tax Deductions" section on your pay-stub.

To check how much you've contributed to the Plan, go to Career & Rewards on Colleague Connect (<https://colleagueconnect.mmc.com>) and under Employee Stock Purchase Plan click Edit My Contributions

Can I get my contributions back?

Yes. You can withdraw from participation in the Plan and receive a refund of your contributions and any interest accrued for any reason up until the payroll processing date of the last payroll of the quarter (generally eight business days prior to the final pay date of the quarter). The balance of your payroll deduction amount will be returned in the next available pay cycle, and your participation in the Plan will cease for the current plan year. You may enroll in the next plan year if you remain eligible.

To withdraw your contributions, go to Career & Rewards on Colleague Connect (<https://colleagueconnect.mmc.com>) and under Employee Stock Purchase Plan click Edit My Contributions.

Do I have to contribute a minimum amount?

If you choose to participate in the Plan, you have to contribute at least 1% of eligible base pay per pay period.

What is the maximum amount I can contribute to the Plan?

You can contribute up to 15% of eligible base pay per pay period during the plan year, up to the INTERNAL REVENUE CODE LIMIT.

What happens if I reach the Internal Revenue Code limit during the plan year?

If you reach the maximum share limit in any calendar quarter, the balance you accumulated (contributions and interest accrued) that exceeded the amount actually needed to purchase shares will be refunded to you in the next available pay cycle following the purchase date.

Your contributions to the Plan, and interest thereon, will cease on the last day of the calendar quarter in which you reach the maximum share limit. Once you reach the maximum share limit, you will not be able to participate in any purchases remaining in the plan year. Your contributions will automatically resume at the start of the new plan year, if you remain eligible and do not otherwise withdraw from participation in an offering.

If your goal is to maximize the number of purchases made during the plan year rather than have calendar quarters during which no purchases are made because you had reached the Internal Revenue Code limit, you may wish to adjust your contribution percentage so that your contributions are level throughout the plan year.

Can I change my contribution rate?

You may increase or decrease your base pay contribution rate twice during the plan year. Your change affects future base pay contributions only. No retroactive contribution rate changes are allowed.

Your change will be effective in the next available pay cycle.

To change your contribution rate, go to Career & Rewards on Colleague Connect (<https://colleagueconnect.mmc.com>) and under Employee Stock Purchase Plan click Edit My Contributions.

Can I stop my contributions at any time?

Yes. You may stop your contributions at any time during the plan year. Once you stop contributions, you may not resume contributions during the current plan year.

Your change will be effective in the next available pay cycle.

To stop your contributions, go to Career & Rewards on Colleague Connect (<https://colleagueconnect.mmc.com>) and under Employee Stock Purchase Plan click Edit My Contributions.

What happens when I elect to stop my contribution during the plan year?

If you stop your contributions during the plan year, you have the following options for the account balance you have accumulated:

- you may choose to keep your balance in the Plan where it will continue to earn 2% interest annually, compounded semi-monthly. (If you are a temporary employee, interest is compounded weekly.) At the end of the calendar quarter in which you stopped your contributions, your account balance will be used to buy shares of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. common stock.
- you may withdraw your contributions, plus any interest accrued, any time after you withdraw from participation in the offering up until the payroll processing date of the last payroll of the quarter (generally eight business days prior to the final pay date of the quarter).

To stop your contributions, go to Career & Rewards on Colleague Connect (<https://colleagueconnect.mmc.com>) and under Employee Stock Purchase Plan click Edit My Contributions.

Once you stop contributions, you may not resume contributions during the current plan year.

Can I start contributing again at any time during the same plan year?

No. When you stop contributing, you may not resume contributions during the current plan year. You can enroll in the next plan year, provided you remain eligible.

Can I continue to make contributions during an unpaid leave of absence?

No. Contributions cease when you are on an unpaid leave of absence. You may keep your balance in the Plan where it will continue to earn 2% interest and will be used to buy shares of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. common stock following the close of the current quarterly purchase period, even if you have not yet returned to active employment by then. You will not be able to participate in any purchases remaining in the plan year. Your contributions will automatically resume when you return to work as long as you receive eligible pay.

Can I continue to make contributions during a paid leave?

Yes. You may continue to make contributions if you are placed on a paid leave while you continue to receive base pay. You may keep your balance in the applicable plan where, if applicable, it will continue to earn 2% interest and will be used to buy Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. common stock following the close of the current quarterly purchase period, even if you have not yet returned to active employment by then.

Can I continue to make contributions during disability leave?

Yes. You may continue to make contributions if you are placed on SHORT TERM DISABILITY while you continue to receive base pay. Contributions cease when you are on LONG TERM DISABILITY. You may keep your balance in the Plan where it will continue to earn 2% interest and will be used to buy shares of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. common stock following the close of the current quarterly purchase period, even if you have not yet returned to active employment by then. You will not be able to participate in any purchases remaining in the plan year. Your contributions will automatically resume when you return to work as long as you receive eligible pay.

If You Leave the Company

If you terminate employment before the end of a quarterly purchase period, your contributions for the calendar quarter in which you leave, plus interest, will be refunded to you, and you will not be able to purchase shares at the end of that quarter. You must be employed by the Company on the designated purchase date in order to purchase shares for the preceding quarterly period.

Since you own the shares outright, you may hold, sell or transfer the shares to a another service provider account. See “Share Ownership” on page 14 for details.

Will Colleague Connect be available once I terminate employment?

No. Once you terminate employment, you will need to go to Connect (<https://connect.mmc.com>) and select a region. Click on the Benefits Handbook.

If You Die

Once shares are purchased for you, you own these shares outright and, if you die, they will be payable consistent with the rules applicable to the account in which they were held at the time of your death. See “Can I name a beneficiary for shares held in my Fidelity Investments stock plan account?” on page 17.

If you die before the end of a quarterly purchase period, your estate will receive a refund of contributions you made to the Plan that quarter, plus interest.

Purchasing Shares

Shares of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. common stock are bought:

- on the purchase date. The purchase date is the last business day of the calendar quarter (except the purchase for the quarter ending December 31 will be made on the first business day of January). Generally, shares deposited on the purchase date are available on the second business day following the purchase date.
- at a purchase price which is 95% of the AVERAGE MARKET PRICE per share on the day the shares are purchased;

- with your contributions that earn 2% per year compounded semi-monthly for regular employees. If you are classified as a temporary employee, interest is compounded weekly, as long as you receive eligible pay; and
- up to an IRS-imposed maximum.

Do I have to purchase shares of common stock?

No. You can withdraw the balance of your payroll deduction account, including any accrued interest before the payroll processing date of the last payroll of the quarter (generally eight business days prior to the final pay date of the quarter). Your contributions plus interest will be returned in the next available pay cycle and your participation in the Plan will cease for the current plan year. You may enroll in the next plan year if you remain eligible.

What is the share minimum?

Fidelity Investments requires at least one share to be purchased. If your quarterly contribution/interest balance is less than one share, then the balance will not be used to purchase shares and will be refunded to you in the next available payroll.

How is the share purchase price determined?

The share purchase price is 95% of the average market price of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. common stock on the purchase date.

What happens to my shares once I purchase them?

Shares purchased each quarter are placed in a stock plan account with Fidelity Investments, Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc.'s default service provider. If you are a new participant, an account will be opened in your name. If you are an existing participant, shares will be placed in your current Fidelity Investments stock plan account according to the registration you have on file. Since you own the shares outright, you generally may hold, sell or transfer the shares to another service provider account. See "Share Ownership" on page 14 for details.

Will I be notified when shares are purchased?

Yes. You will be sent a statement from Fidelity Investments after each quarterly purchase.

When are shares available after the purchase date?

Generally, shares deposited on the purchase date are available on the second business day following the purchase date. This allows Fidelity Investments, the default service provider, time to record the Plan discount price and number of shares your Plan balance has purchased (previously purchased shares, if any, remain available and can be transacted at any time).

How is the maximum number of shares determined?

Under the current Internal Revenue Code limit, you may buy up to $25,000 worth of shares during a plan year, based on the undiscounted fair market value of the shares at the start of the plan year.

What happens if I reach the Internal Revenue Code limit during the plan year?

Under Internal Revenue Code rules, plan participants may buy shares up to the Internal Revenue Code limit. Your contributions to the Plan, and interest thereon, will cease on the last day of the calendar quarter in which you reach the maximum share limit. Once you reach the maximum share limit, you will not be able to participate in any purchases remaining in the Plan year. Your contributions will automatically resume at the start of the next following plan year if you remain eligible.

If your goal is to maximize the number of purchases made during the plan year rather than have calendar quarters during which no purchases are made because you had reached the Internal Revenue Code limit, you may wish to adjust your contribution percent so that your contributions are level throughout the plan year.

If you reach the maximum share limit in any calendar quarter, the balance you accumulated (contributions and interest accrued) that exceeded the amount actually needed to purchase shares will be refunded to you in the next available pay cycle following the purchase date.

Is there any other limitation on the number of shares that I can purchase?

Yes, the Plan has a limit on the total number of shares that are available for issuance to all Plan participants. (This limit is in addition to the annual limit that applies to each individual participant, as described above.) Each time shares are purchased under the Plan, the number of shares remaining available for issuance is reduced. (Adding shares for issuance under the Plan requires approval by Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. shareholders).

What happens if I reach the share limit?

If the share limit is reached and additional shares have not been approved for issuance under the Plan then Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. will:

- equitably allocate the shares remaining available for issuance to Plan participants; and
- consider making additional administrative accommodations, consistent with the terms of the Plan document, to allow participants to complete their intended purchases if and when approval for additional shares is received.

If Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. does not make any additional accommodations or does not receive approval for the additional shares, then Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. will refund any unused accumulated contribution and interest balance to each participant as soon as administratively practicable in a subsequent paycheck.

Do I receive a fixed discount on the shares I purchase?

Yes. You receive a 5% discount on the average market price of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. common stock on the purchase date on all shares bought with your contributions to the Plan and interest thereon.

Taxes

The following tax information is only a summary of the principal US federal income tax law relating to participation in the Plan as of the date of this Prospectus, does not purport to be complete, and does not cover, among other things, foreign, state or local tax treatment of participation in the Plan. Further, this description expressly does not discuss the gift, estate, excise (including the rules applicable to deferred compensation under Code Section 409A), or any other tax laws other than US federal income tax law. Furthermore, differences in the financial situations of participants may cause foreign, federal, state and local tax consequences of participation in the Plan to vary. The tax consequences discussed below are subject to change. Therefore, you are urged to consult with a qualified tax advisor regarding your individual tax consequences of participating in the Plan. This summary is not legal advice concerning tax matters.

All contributions to this Plan are after-tax, as required by the Internal Revenue Code. The Plan provides for offerings that are intended to be tax-qualified under Section 423 of the US Internal Revenue Code (IRC). Under a plan which so qualifies, no taxable income is recognized either upon receipt of the purchase right on the first day of the offering period or upon the actual purchase of shares on each purchase date. The following questions and answers address the tax consequences of participating in a tax-qualified offering under Section 423 of the IRC.

Am I taxed on the interest that accrues on my contributions to the Plan?

Yes. The 2% interest your contributions earn during the plan year is taxable income to you, even though it is credited to your balance in the Plan and not actively paid to you.

Taxes are withheld on interest income when the interest is credited to you.

Will I have to pay taxes when I buy shares?

No. Taxes are only paid when you sell or otherwise dispose of the shares or when you receive dividends (whether they are paid to you or reinvested in additional shares).

Am I taxed on any dividends I may receive on my shares of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. common stock?

Yes. Dividends are considered taxable income whether they are paid to you or are reinvested in additional shares.

Fidelity Investments or another service provider you selected will report to you all dividends paid on the shares during any calendar year on an IRS Form 1099DIV by January 31 of the following year. A copy of this form will also be provided to the IRS.

Consult with a financial or tax professional for information about your personal tax situation.

What are the tax consequences of selling shares?

You are personally responsible for taxes due when you sell or otherwise dispose of shares. The amount of tax you pay depends in part on when you sell or otherwise dispose of the shares. As a reminder, once shares are purchased through the Plan or your contributions are withdrawn, the Plan no longer has any role in your ownership of those shares or your withdrawn contributions. As a result, the Company will not have a role with respect to whether or how you hold or sell your shares and any associated taxes payable by you. You are solely personally responsible for any taxes due as a result of your decision to sell your shares purchased through the Plan.

- Within two years from the grant date:

If you sell shares within two years from the grant date (e.g., the beginning of each plan year that you participate):

- The 5% discount you received on the purchase of the shares is subject to tax as ordinary income and will be reported on your W-2 statement for the calendar year in which you sold or otherwise disposed of your shares, even if you made no profit or realized a loss on the sale of shares. (This is known as a disqualifying disposition.)
- Any GAIN you realize on the sale of shares beyond the discount or any loss must be reported as capital gain (or loss) income.

- After two years from the grant date:

If you sell or otherwise dispose of your shares at a price that is greater than your purchase price (or if you die while owning the shares), you must include as ordinary income on your tax return the lesser of the:

- amount equal to 5% of the fair market value of shares at the grant date, or
- amount, if any, by which your selling price exceeds the price at which you bought the shares.

Any additional gain above the amount recognized as ordinary income must be reported as capital gains income. If you sell or otherwise dispose of your shares at a price that is lower than your purchase price, there is no ordinary income and you must report the loss as a capital loss.

Regardless of when you sell your shares, you must make arrangements to satisfy any applicable federal, state, local or foreign tax obligations. Your employer is not in a position to withhold amounts to satisfy any such obligations due on the sale of shares that you choose to hold after they have been purchased through your participation in the Plan.

Further, you are responsible for keeping a record of the cost basis you used when you sold your shares.

If you have selected to stay with the default provider, Fidelity Investments will report to you total sales proceeds and any taxes withheld on sales proceeds on IRS form 1099B, which will be issued to you by January 31 of the following year. A copy of this form will also be provided to the IRS. If you have selected to go with a service provider other than Fidelity Investments, you must contact that service provider for further information.

Consult with a financial or tax professional for information about your personal tax situation. Neither Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. nor Fidelity Investments provides tax or legal advice.

Note: The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) rule for selling shares is the later of two years from the grant date or one year from the purchase date. Based on the current design of the Plan, two years from the grant date will always be the later date.

Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. will be entitled to an income tax deduction equal to the amount of the ordinary compensation income recognized by you if you sell your shares within two years from the grant date.

Will I have to pay taxes when I leave the Company?

No. You will not be subject to tax on the shares due to your termination of employment with the Company. You will only be subject to taxes if you sell or otherwise dispose of the shares acquired under the Plan, as noted above. Consult with a financial or tax professional for information about your personal tax situation. Neither Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. nor Fidelity Investments provides tax or legal advice.

Do I need to certify that I am not subject to federal tax backup withholding on dividend payments or sales proceeds?

Yes. The IRS requires you to certify that you are not subject to federal tax backup withholding on dividend payments and sales proceeds from Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. shares held in a Fidelity Investments stock plan account, the Plan's default service provider or another selected service provider. If you don't make this certification, the backup withholding will be made from dividend payments and sales proceeds, as applicable.

If you have selected another service provider, you will need to contact that provider to inquire about their Form W-9/Form W-8BEN process

INTERNAL REVENUE CODE LIMIT

- Under current Internal Revenue Code (IRC) rules, you may buy up to $25,000 worth of shares during a plan year, based on the undiscounted fair market value of the shares at the start of the plan year
- Shares of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. common stock are purchased at the end of each calendar quarter; while there is no separate per-quarter limit, there is a plan year limit on the number of shares that can be purchased.
- If you reach the maximum number of shares, the balance you accumulated (contributions and interest accrued) that exceeded the amount actually needed to purchase shares at the end of that quarter will be refunded to you in the next available pay cycle.
- If you have purchased the maximum number of shares before the last quarter of the plan year, you may not contribute in any remaining periods.

How the IRC limit applies to you

Suppose the undiscounted share price in effect at the start of the 2018-2019 plan year is $80. Under the IRS rule, the maximum number of shares that you can buy for the plan year is 312.50 ($$25,000 \div $80 = 312.50$) (your purchased shares can be whole and fractional shares). Let's assume that you purchase 150 shares after the first purchase period. This leaves you with 162.50 shares to purchase in subsequent purchase periods. At the end of the second purchase period, you purchase 150 shares. This leaves you with 12.50 shares to purchase in subsequent periods. At the end of the third purchase period, you purchase 12.50 shares and reach the maximum share limit, as illustrated below

Quarter/End Date	Number of Shares Available to Purchase*	Minus	Number of Shares Actually Purchased (at quarter end)	Equals	Balance of Shares Available to Purchase for Future Quarters
1 December 31 (purchase date is January 2)	312.50	-	150	=	162.50

Quarter/End Date	Number of Shares Available to Purchase*	Minus	Number of Shares Actually Purchased (at quarter end)	Equals	Balance of Shares Available to Purchase for Future Quarters
2 March 29	162.50	-	150	=	12.50
3 June 28	12.50	-	12.50	=	0 (150 + 150 + 12.50 = 312.50 maximum share limit)
4 September 30	0	-	0	=	0

* This example for illustrative purposes only. The Plan allows for fractional shares, so this example assumes a maximum share limit for the Plan year of 312.50 shares.

As you can see, you would reach the maximum share limit of 312.50 during the third purchase period. Your balance would purchase the remaining 12.50 shares at the discounted purchase price as of June 28. Any remaining cash balance would be refunded in your July 15 paycheck and your contribution rate automatically would be reduced to 0%. You would not contribute in the fourth purchase period because you have already reached the maximum share limit for the Plan year. Provided you remain eligible, your contributions would resume at the start of the next Plan year, beginning in October.
