Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service

Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service is a comprehensive financial counseling service that provides objective, professional guidance to participants as they navigate the myriad of questions that arise when a death occurs. An experienced and compassionate Ayco counselor will meet one-on-one with you or your eligible family members and provide a written Personal Financial Plan. Your counseling team will remain available for six months to address questions and issues as they arise. Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service provides the specific, personalized guidance needed when one of life’s most overwhelming events has happened.

A Note about ERISA

Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service is not governed by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). For example, ERISA requirements such as providing a Summary Plan Description, filing an annual report (Form 5500 Series), or making a summary annual report available do not apply to Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service.

Cost

There is no cost to you or your eligible family member for using Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service. Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service is funded by Marsh & McLennan Companies.

How Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service Works

Ayco’s counselors provide objective professional guidance as you address the myriad of questions and concerns that arise after a death. The process begins once the Marsh & McLennan Companies Employee Service Center (Phone +1 866 374 2662 Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., Eastern time.) is notified of a death.

- Marsh & McLennan Companies Employee Service Center confirms eligibility.
- The Employee Service Center completes the appropriate Employee Benefit Questionnaire and notifies Ayco. Marsh & McLennan Companies will provide Ayco with benefits information regarding your survivor benefits. The information provided will include: compensation, life insurance, Marsh & McLennan Companies Stock Option Awards that are outstanding at the time of death, Marsh & McLennan Companies stock unit awards (RSUs, DSU, PSU, etc.) outstanding at the time of death, Mandatory Bonus Deferral, other cash awards that are outstanding, Marsh & McLennan Companies 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan, MMA 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan, Supplemental Savings & Investment Plan, Marsh & McLennan Companies Retirement Plan, Benefit Equalization Plan and Supplemental Retirement Plan coverage details.
• Marsh & McLennan Companies Employee Service Center sends a condolence letter describing Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service to the eligible survivor.

• An Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service administrator contacts the survivor by telephone within 2 business days of notification, but never within seven days of the date of death. If the survivor wants to participate in the service, a meeting is scheduled according to the survivor’s wishes.

• Ayco requests any additional information from Marsh & McLennan Companies.

• Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service counselor meets with survivor.

Do I have to follow the recommendation of Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service?

No, you remain in full control of your financial decisions. You are responsible for making decisions that are best suited for your personal needs, preferences and financial situation.

Do I have to use Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service?

No. Participation is completely voluntary.

If I have an authorized unpaid leave of absence or become disabled, can I still participate in Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service?

During a period of authorized leave of absence or disability, you will remain eligible for the benefit.

Services Provided

• One-on-one counseling session with an Ayco counselor to review your family’s financial position, establish objectives and priorities and assist as the participant makes prudent decisions. The topics covered include: estate settlement, income tax planning, Social Security, investment planning, employee benefits, insurance planning, cash flow analysis, education funding, retirement planning and estate planning.

• Written Personalized Financial Plan summarizing the topics discussed and prioritizing issues requiring immediate and future attention. In addition to the written summary, you will also receive appropriate personalized financial exhibits, such as a Summary of Assets and Expenses, Cash Flow Overview, Income Tax Projection and Current Asset Allocation Mix. These recap materials focus on planning priorities and specific planning topics to act upon.
Six months of ongoing pro-active assistance for help in implementing the financial plan to address issues as they arise or as new information becomes available. Ayco counselors make at least one outbound contact per month during the 6-month duration of the service for ongoing support and assistance with implementation.

Access to the Ayco’s Interactive website, which allows service participants and the Ayco financial counseling team to collaborate through secure sharing of documents.

What if I am already working with a financial planner?
The Ayco SurvivorSupport® Service is designed to coordinate – not replace the efforts of your company’s Human Resources personnel or other professionals already in place. The Ayco counselor will work with these individuals to help you as you make decisions.

Can I have others present during the one-on-one counseling session?
Yes. You can have others present during your meeting with the Ayco SurvivorSupport® Service counselor.

What can I expect from the SurvivorSupport® counselors?
The service is delivered by Ayco counselors who are sensitive to the emotional and financial impact of the situation at hand. In addition to regular ongoing technical training, counselors also receive specific bereavement training.

Will Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service counselors try to sell me anything?
Ayco’s SurvivorSupport® Financial Counseling Service financial counselors are not commissioned salespeople. Your counselor’s objective is to provide you with professional financial education and guidance as it pertains to your individual planning needs.
