How the Plan Works

The Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan provides for an additional level of income replacement if you elect this coverage and qualify for benefits under the Basic Long Term Disability Plan and the Optional Long Term Disability Plan. Approved benefits begin to be paid on the seventh month of disability.

You must qualify and elect benefit coverage under the Basic Long Term Disability Plan and the Optional Long Term Disability Plan to be considered for benefits under this Plan. The Company provides you with basic disability coverage and you can chose to purchase this additional coverage.

The Plan offers two coverage options: a 50% option and a 100% option. If you are approved to receive the Long Term Disability Bonus Income benefit, the Plan provides you with a monthly benefit of 60% of your covered benefit amount, up to a maximum of $15,000 per month.

The covered benefit amount is determined by applying the coverage option percentage to your eligible bonus. The 100% covered benefit amount coverage option is subject to a maximum covered benefit amount of $300,000. The 50% coverage option is subject to a minimum covered benefit amount of $50,000 and a maximum of $150,000.

The following chart illustrates how your Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit is determined.

If your eligible bonus is:	And you may choose from these coverage options:	Your covered benefit amount is:	Your annual Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit payment is:
$5,000 to $50,000	100% of eligible bonus	100% of your eligible bonus	60% of your covered benefit amount (maximum $15,000 per month)

If your eligible bonus is:	And you may choose from these coverage options:	Your covered benefit amount is:	Your annual Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit payment is:
$50,001 to $300,000	100% of eligible bonus 50% of eligible bonus	100% of eligible bonus 50% of eligible bonus (minimum of $50,000)	60% of your covered benefit amount (maximum $15,000 per month)
More than $300,000	100% of eligible bonus 50% of eligible bonus	100% of eligible bonus (maximum of $300,000) 50% of eligible bonus (maximum of $150,000)	60% of your covered benefit amount (maximum $15,000 per month)

For example, if your eligible bonus is $30,000 and you elect:

- the 100% coverage option, your covered benefit amount would be $30,000 and your Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan annual benefit payment would be $18,000 ($30,000 × 60%).

As another example, if your eligible bonus is $80,000 and you elect:

- the 100% coverage option, your covered benefit amount would be $80,000 and your Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan annual benefit payment would be $48,000 ($80,000 × 60%).
- the 50% coverage option, your covered benefit amount would be $50,000 (minimum covered benefit amount) and your Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan annual benefit payment would be $30,000 ($50,000 × 60%).

Eligible Bonus

An eligible bonus for coverage under the Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan is an annual incentive bonus award granted through the Company's incentive compensation plans. The definition of eligible bonus includes amounts awarded for a performance year regardless of whether paid promptly following such award, or deferred to a future year, whether distributed in cash or shares of Marsh & McLennan Companies common stock, or whether denominated in cash, stock bonus units (SBUs), other equity-based awards, or any combination thereof.

The definition of eligible bonus excludes amounts that are not awarded as part of an annual incentive bonus award, such as long-term incentive compensation awards, sign-on bonuses, retention bonuses, non-recurring awards, one-time only special recognition awards, commission payments or commission-based incentive awards or awards based on Marsh & McLennan Companies common stock that are not a part of an annual incentive bonus award.

Despite the general rule above, an Operating Company may approve the inclusion of commission payments or commission-based incentive awards from US sales incentive plans as well as other variable compensation in the definition of an eligible bonus under the Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan for the employees of that Operating Company. Any such approved inclusion of compensation in the definition of an eligible bonus will be uniformly applied to similarly-situated employees of that Operating Company. Marsh and Mercer have approved the inclusion of the following in the definition of eligible bonus under the Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan.

- the eligible bonus that you received in the current calendar year with respect to the preceding performance year, or
- the average of your eligible bonuses awarded by the Company for the three or fewer preceding performance years for which you were eligible for the Plan.

Disability Explanation

What is the Plan's definition of disability?

To be considered disabled, you must be "totally" disabled. During the first 30 months of an approved disability (including the first six months under the Short Term Disability Plan), you are considered totally disabled if you are unable to continuously perform the substantial and material duties of your present occupation because of an illness or injury, as long as you are not engaged in any other occupation or employment. Medical certification of disability is required, and you must be under the regular care of a licensed physician who is qualified to treat your condition. You are responsible for any costs you may incur to initially qualify for disability, such as providing medical records or submitting to an independent medical examination. The Plan does not cover these costs.

The Plan's definition of total disability changes after 30 months (including the first six months under the Short Term Disability Plan). After this period, you are considered totally disabled and eligible for benefits if you are continuously unable to engage in duties of any substantial gainful employment for which you are reasonably qualified by education, training or experience. You must be under the regular care of a licensed physician who is qualified to treat your condition.

You or your doctor may be asked periodically to provide proof of your continuing Disability. You will be responsible for any doctor's charges or other costs associated with providing such proof. The Plan does not cover these costs.

Pregnancy

Will I receive Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefits if I am pregnant?

You may be eligible for benefits from the Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan if your pregnancy, childbirth or any complications prevent you from performing your job for more than six months and you have exhausted your Short Term Disability benefits. As with any disability, you must satisfy the requirements of an eligible disability, and your disability must be approved by the Claims Administrator.

Mental Health and Substance Abuse

Mental Health

Can I receive benefits from the Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan if I have a mental health condition?

You may be eligible for benefits from the Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan if your mental health condition prevents you from performing your job. As with any disability, you must satisfy the requirements of an eligible disability, and your disability must be approved by the Claims Administrator.

Are benefits limited for mental health conditions?

If you become disabled (as determined by the Claims Administrator) on or after January 1, 2006 because of a mental health condition that results from any cause, then, subject to all other Plan provisions, benefits will be payable:

- only for so long as you are confined in a hospital or other place licensed to provide medical care for the disabling condition; or
- when you are not so confined, a total of 24 months (excluding the first six months under the Short Term Disability Plan) for all such disabilities during your lifetime.

Mental health condition means any psychological, behavioral or emotional disorder or ailment of the mind, including physical manifestations of psychological, behavioral or emotional disorders, but excluding demonstrable, structural brain damage.

If I was approved for Short Term and/or Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan prior to January 1, 2006, does the 24-month Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit limit on non-confined treatment for a mental health condition apply?

No, if you were approved for Short Term and/or Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan by the Claims Administrator prior to January 1, 2006, you are not subject to the 24-month (excluding the first six months under the Short Term Disability Plan) Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit limit on non-confined treatment for a mental health condition.

If however, you were approved for Short Term and/or Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefits for non-confined treatment for a mental health condition prior to January 1, 2006, you return to work for at least six months, and then you become disabled again for the same mental health condition on or after January 1, 2006, you are subject to the 24-month (excluding the first six months under the Short Term Disability Plan) Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit limit on non-confined treatment for a mental health condition.

Periods of non-confined treatment for substance abuse count toward the 24-month (excluding the first six months under the Short Term Disability Plan) Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit limit on non-confined treatment for mental health conditions.

Substance Abuse

Can I receive benefits under the Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan if I have a substance abuse problem?

You may be eligible for benefits from the Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan if your substance abuse problem prevents you from performing your job. As with any disability, you must satisfy the requirements of an eligible disability, and your disability must be approved by the Claims Administrator.

Are benefits limited for substance abuse?

If you become disabled (as determined by the Claims Administrator) on or after January 1, 2006 because of alcoholism or the non-medical use of narcotics, sedatives, stimulants, hallucinogens, or any other such substance then, subject to all other Plan provisions, benefits will be payable:

- only for so long as you are confined in a hospital or other place licensed to provide medical care for the disabling condition; or
- when you are not so confined, a total of 24 months (excluding the first six months under the Short Term Disability Plan) for all such disabilities during your lifetime.

If I was approved for Short Term and/or Long Term Disability prior to January 1, 2006, does the 24-month Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit limit on non-confined treatment for substance abuse apply?

No, if you were approved for Short Term and/or Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan by the Claims Administrator prior to January 1, 2006, you are not subject to the 24-month (excluding the first six months under the Short Term Disability Plan) Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit limit on non-confined treatment for substance abuse.

If however, you were approved for Short Term and/or Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefits for non-confined treatment for a substance abuse problem prior to January 1, 2006, you return to work for at least six months, and then you become disabled again for the same substance abuse problem on or after January 1, 2006, you are subject to the 24-month (excluding the first six months under the Short Term Disability Plan) Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit limit on non-confined treatment for a substance abuse problem.

Periods of non-confined treatment for substance abuse count toward the 24-month (excluding the first six months under the Short Term Disability Plan) Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit limit on non-confined treatment for mental health conditions.

Exclusions

Are there any restrictions or exclusions?

Yes. For the plan year beginning July 1, 2006, no benefit is paid for:

- disabilities not treated by a licensed physician who is qualified to treat your condition
- intentionally self-inflicted injuries
- disabilities as a result of declared or undeclared war or act of war
- disabilities as a result of the commission of a felony.

Note: Previous to July 1, 2006, a benefit is paid for disabilities as a result of declared or undeclared war or act of war outside the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico, Bermuda, Barbados, and the Cayman Islands for covered employees assigned on a temporary basis by the Company outside their country of regular employment but no benefit is paid for disabilities as a result of voluntary participation in a riot.

Returning to Work

What happens to my Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit if I return to work part-time?

If the Claims Administrator approves your return to work part-time as a part of the Basic Long Term Disability Plan's rehabilitative employment program, you will still receive your entire Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit.

Rehabilitation Benefits

What is the rehabilitative program?

The rehabilitative program is any gainful occupation or employment for wage or profit, provided such employment is performed during a period in which you are unable to fully perform your regular employment with the Company.

Am I eligible for the Rehabilitative program benefits?

If you are receiving Basic Long Term Disability Plan benefits, you are eligible to participate in the rehabilitative program. The rehabilitative program is designed to meet your specific disability needs, and the Claims Administrator and your physician have to approve your participation in the rehabilitative program.

Is there a penalty for not participating in the rehabilitative program?

There is no penalty if you don't participate in the rehabilitative program.

If you elect this coverage and qualify for long term Disability benefits, your payments will begin under the Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan beginning with the 7th month of an approved disability. The Plan will pay a monthly benefit equal to 60% of the covered benefit amount that you have chosen to cover, divided by 12. For example, if your covered benefit amount is $24,000, your monthly benefit would equal $1,200 ($24,000 times 60% divided by 12).

This Plan pays disability benefits regardless of any other disability income you may receive and is subject to the Long Term Disability Income Plan monthly maximum limit of $15,000.

Benefits Payment Method

Monthly benefits are paid by the Claims Administrator via check and mailed to your home address at the end of each month.

Payment Period

Your payments will end on the earliest of the following:

- you cease to be disabled (as determined by the Claims Administrator)
- you die
- you reach age 65 (if your birthday is on the first of the month. Otherwise, payments continue until the end of the month in which you reach age 65.), unless you become disabled on or after age 62 (see the “Benefit Schedule Based on Age” on page 15 for details)
- you reach the disability benefit limit for mental health and/or substance abuse
- after 30 months (including the first six months under the Short Term Disability Plan), unless you are unable to engage in duties of any substantial gainful employment for which you are reasonably qualified by education, training or experience (as determined by the Claims Administrator).

Payment Period Exceptions

There are exceptions to the normal payment period if:

- the Plan’s Claims Administrator offers you a lump-sum settlement, or
- you become disabled on or after age 62.

Benefit Schedule Based on Age

How long are benefits paid if I become disabled on or after age 62?

If you become disabled on or after age 62, benefits will be paid according to the schedule below (based on your age at the time you became disabled):

- age 62, benefits will be paid up to a maximum of 3½ years
- age 63, benefits will be paid up to a maximum of 3 years
- age 64, benefits will be paid up to a maximum of 2½ years
- age 65, benefits will be paid up to a maximum of 2 years
- age 66, benefits will be paid up to a maximum of 1¾ years

- age 67, benefits will be paid up to a maximum of 1½ years
- age 68, benefits will be paid up to a maximum of 1¼ years
- age 69 or older, benefits will be paid up to a maximum of 1 year.

Lump-Sum Payments

Can I receive a lump-sum benefit in lieu of monthly payments?

In certain cases, where there is little or no chance of recovery, the Claims Administrator may offer a lump-sum benefit.

If you accept a lump-sum settlement:

- your employment with the Company will be terminated on the date you accept the offer
- your participation in Marsh & McLennan Companies benefit programs ceases on the date you accept the offer. However, you (and your covered family members) would be eligible for COBRA benefit continuation coverage for certain benefits
- you must accept such a settlement under each of the Marsh & McLennan Companies long term Disability plans under which you are covered.

Other Sources of Disability Benefits

What impact does receiving other disability income benefits have on my Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit?

Your Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit is not reduced by any disability income you receive from other sources (offset income).

Is my Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefit subject to subrogation?

To the maximum extent permitted by law, the Plan is entitled to equitable or other permitted remedies, including a lien or constructive trust, to recover any amounts received as a result of a judgment, settlement or other means of compensation for conditions or injuries which have resulted in the payment of benefits under this Plan. This will include, but is not limited to, damages for pain and suffering and lost income. The Plan is entitled to recover these amounts from you; any covered family member or beneficiary, or any other person holding them, up to the amount of all payments made or payable in the future plus costs of recovery. The Plan has a priority interest in any and all funds recovered in any full or partial recovery, including funds intended to compensate for attorney's fees and other expenses.

As a condition of receiving benefits under this Plan, you agree that:

1. You will promptly notify the Claims Administrator of any settlement negotiations, settlement, or judgment in any litigation related to an event or condition for which you have received, or expect to receive, benefits under this Plan; and
2. Future benefits, even for an unrelated event or condition, may be reduced by the amount of any judgment or settlement, or similar compensation which the Plan would be entitled to under the rules above but is unable to recover.

Filing a Claim

The Claims Administrator will notify you if paperwork is needed to initiate a Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan claim. Any required paperwork will be sent to your home address.

The documentation typically required includes:

- an Authorization Form to release your medical information
- an Integration Acknowledgement Form which advises you about the integration of other income benefits with this Plan and requires you to agree to reimburse the Company if an overpayment occurs
- additional paperwork as needed.

You must timely complete all requested documentation to receive Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan benefits.

How do I file a claim?

After you have been on Short Term Disability for four months and it is anticipated that you may be eligible for Long Term Disability Bonus Income coverage, any additional paperwork needed will be requested directly to your home address. You must complete all requested documentation to receive long term disability bonus income benefits.

Who decides if I am eligible to receive a disability benefit payment?

The Claims Administrator has full discretion and authority to determine eligibility to receive benefit payment under the Plan. The Plan Administrator determines any claims concerning whether you are eligible for coverage under the Plan or whether you properly enrolled in the Plan. Please see the Administrative Information Section for more information.

How do I appeal a benefit determination or denied claim?

The Administrative Information Section describes special rules, procedures and deadlines that apply to appeals of benefit determinations and denied claims, and your special legal rights under ERISA.

COVERAGE OPTION

The Plan offers two coverage options: a 50% option and a 100% option.

COVERED BENEFIT AMOUNT

The covered benefit amount is used to determine the annual Long Term Disability Bonus Income plan payment. It is determined by applying the coverage option percentage you elect to your eligible bonus. The covered benefit amount is subject to a maximum of $300,000 and if the 50% option is elected, a minimum of $50,000.

DISABILITY

To be considered disabled, you must be “totally” disabled. During the first 30 months of an approved disability (including the first six months under the Short Term Disability Plan), you are considered totally disabled if you are unable to continuously perform the substantial and material duties of your present occupation because of an illness or injury, as long as you are not engaged in any other occupation or employment. Medical certification of disability is required, and you must be under the regular care of a licensed physician who is qualified to treat your condition. You are responsible for any costs you may incur to initially qualify for disability, such as providing medical records or submitting to an independent medical examination. The Plan does not cover these costs.

The Plan’s definition of total disability changes after 30 months (including the first six months under the Short Term Disability Plan). After this period, you are considered totally disabled and eligible for benefits if you are continuously unable to engage in duties of any substantial gainful employment for which you are reasonably qualified by education, training or experience. You must be under the regular care of a licensed physician who is qualified to treat your condition.

You or your doctor may be asked periodically to provide proof of your continuing disability. You will be responsible for any doctor's charges or other costs associated with providing such proof. The Plan does not cover these costs.

ELIGIBLE BONUS

An eligible bonus for coverage under the Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan is an annual incentive bonus award granted through the Company's incentive compensation plans. The definition of eligible bonus includes amounts awarded for a performance year regardless of whether paid promptly following such award, or deferred to a future year, whether distributed in cash or shares of Marsh & McLennan Companies common stock, or whether denominated in cash, stock bonus units (SBUs), other equity-based awards, or any combination thereof.

The definition of eligible bonus excludes amounts that are not awarded as part of an annual incentive bonus award, such as long-term incentive compensation awards, sign-on bonuses, retention bonuses, non-recurring awards, one-time only special recognition awards, commission payments or commission-based incentive awards or awards based on Marsh & McLennan Companies common stock that are not a part of an annual incentive bonus award.

Despite the general rule above, an Operating Company may approve the inclusion of commission payments or commission-based incentive awards from US sales incentive plans as well as other variable compensation in the definition of an eligible bonus under the Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan for the employees of that Operating Company. Any such approved inclusion of compensation in the definition of an eligible bonus will be uniformly applied to similarly-situated employees of that Operating Company. Marsh and Mercer have approved the inclusion of the following in the definition of eligible bonus under the Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan.

For the purposes of the Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan your eligible bonus is the higher of:

- the eligible bonus that you received in the current calendar year with respect to the preceding performance year, or
- the average of your eligible bonuses awarded by the Company for the three or fewer preceding performance years for which you were eligible for the Plan.

EVIDENCE OF INSURABILITY

Evidence of Insurability is proof of good health and is generally required if you do not enroll for coverage when you first become eligible, if the coverage level you are requesting requires such evidence, or if you are increasing coverage. Establishing Evidence of Insurability may require a physical examination at the employee's expense. The Evidence of Insurability must be provided to and approved by the insurer before coverage can go into effect.

MONTHLY BENEFIT

The Plan pays a monthly benefit of 60% of your covered benefit amount subject to a maximum of $15,000.
