The Plan does not cover foster children or other children living with you, including your grandchildren, unless you are their legal guardian with full financial responsibility—that is, you or your spouse claims them as a dependent on your annual tax return.

How long can I cover my dependent child?

Generally, you can cover your child through the end of the calendar year in which your child reaches age 19. You may be able to extend coverage for your child up to the end of the month in which your child attains age 25, as long as your child is:

- a full-time student (generally those with 12 or more accredited hours of course work per semester, or full-time as determined by the school), unmarried, and dependent on you for support, or
- a disabled dependent child.

Once your child reaches the maximum age for coverage or no longer meets the eligibility requirements (whichever comes first), your child's coverage will stop.

If your child no longer meets the eligibility requirements above, you must remove your child from coverage. To make a coverage change, sign in to PeopleLink (www.mmcpeoplelink.com), select the Finances tab and under Insurance Benefits, click Dependent Children Life. Then go to Take Action in the right navigation bar and select Enroll, view, change benefits. No refund of contributions and no benefit will be paid beyond the date eligibility ceases.

Can I cover my disabled child?

You can cover your disabled child over the limiting age. To be eligible for coverage, your child has to be an unmarried child incapable of self support by reason of a total mental or physical disability as determined by the Claims Administrator.

To cover your disabled child, your child must have been covered under the Plan before age 19 or age 25, as applicable.

My spouse or domestic partner also works for the Company; can we both cover our child?

If both you and your approved spouse or domestic partner work for the Company, you may both enroll your dependent child for coverage, with each of you receiving the full benefit upon your child's death. Also, your child has to meet the eligible child definition.

Can I cover my married child who is still dependent on me?

No, you can't cover a married child, even if the child is still dependent on you.

Can I cover my grandchild?

You can't cover your grandchild under the Plan unless you are the legally appointed guardian or you have legally adopted the child.

I am divorced and do not have sole custody of my child; can I still cover my child?

You can still cover your child under the Plan as long as the child meets the eligible child definition.

Beneficiaries

You are always the BENEFICIARY for your covered children.

Who is the beneficiary if I die as well as my child?

Child Hospitalized on Effective Date

When does coverage begin for my child if he/she is hospitalized when his/her coverage is supposed to start?

The coverage for your child will start after the child is released from medical confinement and has provided EVIDENCE OF INSURABILITY. Evidence of Insurability is also required if your child was hospitalized in the three months prior to the effective date of coverage.
