How the Benefits Handbook Is Used

Claims Administrators (or Account Administrator or Plan Administrator, as applicable)

The Claims Administrator (or Account Administrator or Plan Administrator, as applicable) for each plan described in the Benefits Handbook uses the description of the applicable plan in the Benefits Handbook to make determinations on claims for benefits under the plan and processes the claims. (Should any plan provision described become invalid or unenforceable, it will not affect the validity or enforceability of any other plan provision.) When necessary, the Claims Administrators (or Account Administrators or Plan Administrator, as applicable) may also refer to their internal guidelines and other formal documents such as insurance policies, certificates of insurance, and benefits summaries in making claims/benefits determinations. Such other documents are available to you upon request without any cost. The Claims Administrator or Account Administrator or Plan Administrator, as applicable, has full discretion and authority to make all such claims/benefits determinations.

Unless the Plan Administrator has delegated such authority to a Claims Administrator or Account Administrator, the Plan Administrator shall have complete authority to interpret and construe the provisions of the plans, make findings of fact, correct errors, and supply omissions. All decisions and interpretations of the Plan Administrator made pursuant to the plan shall be final, conclusive, and binding on all persons and may not be overturned unless found by a court to be arbitrary and capricious.

Conflicts in Terms

Unless otherwise noted, for a self-insured benefit, if there is a conflict between a specific provision under the Benefits Handbook and a benefit booklet/summary, the Benefits Handbook controls. For fully insured benefits, the terms of the certificate of insurance/evidence of coverage or insurance policy will control when describing specific benefits that are covered or insurance-related terms.

Headings, Navigation Menus, Tables of Contents, Etc.

Note that the various headings and sub-headings in the Benefits Handbook (which produce the website navigation menus and the tables of contents in the printed version) are provided for your convenience and in no way define, limit, or otherwise describe the scope or intent of the plans.

Administrative Details about the Plans

The following are administrative facts about the benefits described in the Benefits Handbook.

Some of the plans are fully insured and some are self-insured, as indicated below. Fully insured means that benefits are provided under an insurance contract with an insurance company. Claims for benefits are sent to the insurance company, which is responsible for paying plan benefits, rather than the Company. (However, the insurance company and the Plan Administrator share responsibility for administering the plan, as discussed below.) Some of the plans are self-insured, as indicated below. This means that there is no insurance company that collects premiums and pays benefits. Instead, participating employees, the Company, or both make contributions to cover the cost of benefits. The Company's payment of benefits may be made by the Company out of its general assets or through a trust established for that purpose. If contributions are required by the participating employees, the Company will determine the amount, in its discretion and in a uniform and consistent manner.

Eligibility for the Plans

Eligible employees of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. are covered by the employee benefits plans described in this document, as well as employees of any subsidiary or affiliate, as described in the applicable plan eligibility sections of the Benefits Handbook.

You may write to the Plan Administrator for a complete list of the employers that participate in each of the plans.

The Marsh & McLennan Companies 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan

Plan Name

Marsh & McLennan Companies 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan

Plan Number

Plan Type

This is a defined contribution plan under which accounts are maintained for each participant. The plan qualifies as both a stock bonus 401(k) savings plan and an employee stock ownership plan. The plan is intended to qualify as a participant-directed “section 404(c) plan” pursuant to ERISA. The plan offers participants and beneficiaries the opportunity to exercise control over the assets contributed and accumulated on their behalf by allowing them to choose the manner in which these assets will be invested from a broad range of investment alternatives. This means that participants or their beneficiaries may not hold the plan’s fiduciaries liable for any losses sustained in their plan account that are the result of their exercise of control over how the account balance invested.

Plan Year

The plan year is January 1 - December 31.

Plan Sponsor

The Plan Sponsor is:

Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc.
1166 Avenue of the Americas
New York, NY 10036-2774

Information regarding eligibility to participate in the Marsh & McLennan Companies 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan can be found in the Marsh & McLennan Companies 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan section of the Benefits Handbook.

Plan Administrator

The Plan Administrator is Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. Benefits Administration Committee and can be reached at:

The Plan Administrator has full discretion and authority to control and manage the operation and administration of the plan. Day-to-day plan administration and recordkeeping is provided through a contract with an outside administrative services provider.

Source of Benefits Funding and Trustee

The Marsh & McLennan Companies 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan is funded through Company and participating employee contributions. The assets under the Marsh & McLennan Companies 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan are held in a tax-exempt trust by the following trustee:

Marsh & McLennan Companies Master Retirement Savings Trust
The Northern Trust Company
801 South Canal Street
Chicago, Illinois 60607

The investment options currently available for investment are listed in the Marsh & McLennan Companies 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan section in this Benefits Handbook. Current prospectuses and certain other financial information about these funds are available on request from the Plan Administrator and on the plan's website at <https://colleagueconnect.mmc.com>. Specifically, the following information may be requested from the Plan Administrator regarding the plan's investment options:

- Copies of prospectuses or, alternatively short form or summary prospectuses, or other similar documents;
- Copies of financial reports, shareholder reports, statements of additional information or other similar materials to the extent provided to the Plan Administrator;
- A statement of the value of a share or unit of each investment option; and
- A list of assets that comprise the portfolio of any investment option that constitute "plan assets" under 29 CFR 2510.3-101 and the value of each asset.
- Paper copies of the materials required by ERISA to be maintained on the plan's website regarding investment alternatives.

The plan provides that certain expenses of investment and administration, including fees for third-party service providers, may be paid out of plan assets. Refunds of Section 12b-1 and other similar fees received in connection with the plan's investment options may be applied towards these expenses. The Plan Administrator has discretion to determine how to reasonably allocate these expenses among accounts.

Agent for Legal Process

We hope you never feel you need to resort to legal action to enforce your rights. However, if you feel you have cause for legal action after you have exhausted the plan's claims appeal process, a timely complaint may be served on the Company's General Counsel at:

Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc.
1166 Avenue of the Americas
New York, NY 10036

Service of legal process may be made upon the Plan Administrator or a Plan Trustee as well.

Limitations on Actions

The claims review and appeal procedures for the plans provide that no legal action for benefits may be brought by any participant or beneficiary unless the plan's claim review procedure has been exhausted (that is, all appeals of adverse decisions have been made).

Any such action (whether at law, in equity or otherwise) must be commenced within one year. This one-year period shall be computed from the earlier of (a) the date a final determination denying such benefit, in whole or in part, is issued under the Plan's claim review procedure and b) the date such individual's cause of action first accrued.

California State Law

Except where pre-empted by ERISA or other US laws, the validity of the Kaiser medical plans and any of their provisions will be determined under the laws of the State of California without giving effect to principles of conflict of laws.

Delaware Law

Except where preempted by ERISA or other US laws, the validity of the Legal Assistance Plan and any of its provisions will be determined under the laws of Delaware without giving effect to principles of conflict of laws.

Hawaii State Law

Except where pre-empted by ERISA or other US laws, the validity of the Hawaii HMO and PPP plans and any of their provisions will be determined under the laws of State of Hawaii without giving effect to principles of conflict of laws.

New York State Law

Except where pre-empted by ERISA or other US laws, the validity of the plans (with the exception of the Kaiser, Hawaii HMO, Hawaii PPP and Legal Assistance Plan) and any of their provisions will be determined under the laws of New York State without giving effect to principles of conflict of laws.

Your Rights under ERISA

As a participant in a plan that is subject to ERISA, you are entitled to certain rights and protections under ERISA. ERISA provides that all plan participants shall be entitled to:

- Receive information about the plan and your benefits.
- Examine, at the Plan Administrator's office and other specified locations, including work sites, without charge, all plan documents governing the plan. These documents may include insurance contracts, if applicable, and the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series) filed by the plan with the US Department of Labor and available at the Public Disclosure Room of the Employee Benefit Security Administration.
- Obtain, after sending a written request to the Plan Administrator, copies of documents governing the operation of the plan, including insurance contracts, if applicable, and copies of the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series) and updated Summary Plan Description. You may be asked to pay a reasonable charge for the copies of documents which are not part of the prospectus.
- Receive a written summary of the plan's annual financial report. The Plan Administrator is required by law to provide each participant with a copy of this summary annual report. See "Annual Funding Notice and Summary Annual Reports" on page 64.

- For applicable plans, obtain a statement telling you whether you have a right to receive a retirement plan benefit at normal retirement age (age 65) and, if so, what your benefits would be at normal retirement age if you stop working under the plan now. If you do not have a right to a retirement benefit, the statement will tell you how many more years you have to work to get a right to a benefit. The Plan Administrator will provide this statement once every three years in the case of the Marsh & McLennan Companies Retirement Plan A/B (or upon your written request but not more often than every 12 months), and once every quarter for the Marsh & McLennan Companies 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan, or the MMA 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan. The plan must provide the statement free of charge. Currently, updated monthly statements are available on Total Rewards accessible via Colleague Connect (<https://colleagueconnect.mmc.com>).
- For applicable plans, continue health care coverage for yourself, spouse, or covered family members if there is a loss of coverage under the plan as a result of a qualifying event. You or your covered family members will have to timely elect and pay for such coverage. Review the SPD and the documents governing the plan on the rules governing your continuation coverage rights under the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (COBRA).
- For applicable plans, the reduction or elimination of exclusionary periods of coverage for preexisting conditions under your group health plan, if you have creditable coverage from another plan. You should be provided a certificate of creditable coverage, free of charge, from your group health plan or health insurance issuer when you lose coverage under the plan, when you become entitled to elect COBRA continuation coverage, when your COBRA continuation coverage ceases, if you request it before losing coverage, or if you request it up to 24 months after losing coverage. Without evidence of creditable coverage, you may be subject to a preexisting condition exclusion for 12 months (18 months for late enrollees) after your enrollment date in your coverage.

Prudent Actions by Plan Fiduciaries

In addition to creating rights for plan participants, ERISA imposes duties on the people responsible for the operation of the plans. The people who operate these plans, called “fiduciaries”, have a duty to do so prudently and in the interest of you and other plan participants and beneficiaries. No one, including your employer, or any other person, may terminate you or otherwise discriminate against you in any way to prevent you from obtaining a benefit or exercising your rights under ERISA.

Enforce Your Rights

If your claim for a benefit under a plan is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you have a right to know why this was done, including the provision of the plan on which the denial was based, to obtain copies of documents relating to the decision without charge, and to appeal any denial, all within certain time schedules.

Under ERISA, there are several steps you can take to enforce the above rights. For instance, if you request a copy of plan documents or the latest annual report from the Plan Administrator and do not receive them within 30 days, you may file suit in federal court. In such a case, the court may require the Plan Administrator to provide the materials and pay you up to $110 a day until you receive the materials, unless the materials were not sent because of reasons beyond the Plan Administrator's control.

If you have a claim for benefits that is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you may file suit in a state or federal court. In addition, if you disagree with the plan's decision or lack of decision about the qualified status of a domestic relations order or a medical child support order, you may file suit in federal court. If plan fiduciaries misuse the plan's money, or if you are discriminated against for asserting your rights, you may seek assistance from the US Department of Labor, or you may file suit in federal court. The court will decide who should pay court costs and legal fees. If you are successful, the court may order the person you sued to pay these costs and fees. If you lose, the court may order you to pay these costs and fees if, for example, it finds your claim is frivolous.

Assistance with Your Questions

If you have any questions about any of these plans, contact the Plan Administrator. If you have questions about this statement or about your rights under ERISA, or if you need assistance in obtaining documents from the Plan Administrator, contact the nearest office of the Employee Benefits Security Administration, US Department of Labor, listed in your telephone directory. You may also contact the Division of Technical Assistance and Inquiries, Employee Benefits Security Administration, US Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue N.W., Washington, D.C. 20210. You may also obtain certain publications about your rights and responsibilities under ERISA by calling the publications hotline of the Employee Benefits Security Administration.

Summary Plan Descriptions

Plans subject to ERISA, described under “ERISA and Your Rights under ERISA” on page 59, are required to provide Summary Plan Descriptions (SPDs) for those plans. This Benefits Handbook serves as the Summary Plan Description for the following plans:

About SPDs

Summary Plan Descriptions (SPDs) are intended to provide you with easy-to-understand general explanations of the more significant provisions of your benefit plans. If any conflict should arise between the Summary Plan Description and the provisions of the plan, or if any provision is not explained or only partially explained in the Summary Plan Description, your rights will be determined under the provisions of the plan document (which may be changed from time to time), as interpreted by the Claims Administrator or Plan Administrator, as applicable.

- The Marsh & McLennan Companies Retirement Plan B
- The Marsh & McLennan Companies 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan
- The MMA 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan

The information presented in these Summary Plan Descriptions is intended to comply with the disclosure requirements of the regulations issued by the US Department of Labor under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA).

Annual Funding Notice and Summary Annual Reports

The Plan Administrator is required by federal law to provide participants with a copy of the annual funding notice or summary annual report for certain plans. The annual funding notice specifies the plan's "funded status" and describes the plan's funding/investment policy. The summary annual report (SAR) is a written summary of the plan's annual financial report. SARs are provided for the plans listed in the tables. The Marsh & McLennan Companies Retirement Plan A/B SAR has been replaced with a Marsh & McLennan Companies Retirement Plan A/B Annual Funding Notice.

The following tables list the available annual funding notice(s) and SARs and include links to a PDF file of the most recent annual funding notice and SAR.

How to Obtain Plan Documents

Copies of plan documents and certain related documents such as insurance company contracts and trust agreements (to the extent applicable), are available to review upon written request to the Plan Administrator or Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc.'s General Counsel. A copy of any of these documents will be furnished to a plan participant or beneficiary (or an authorized representative) upon request at a reasonable charge of up to 25 cents per page to cover reproduction and handling. Note that this Benefits Handbook constitutes the plan document for the specific plans listed above.

Plan Amendments

Health & Welfare Plans

The Company reserves the right to modify or amend, at any time and to any extent, any or all of the health & welfare plans (whether self-insured or insured) described in this Benefits Handbook. Amendments to any health or welfare plan provision, such as those regarding eligibility for coverage and the benefits provided under a plan, are made in writing by updating this Benefits Handbook and, where applicable, the plan's Guide to Benefits. Any such amendments are communicated to you by revising the Benefits Handbook, or through Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc.'s internal employee communication channels, and, where applicable, the plan's Guide to Benefits.

Tax-qualified Retirement and Savings Plans

The Company reserves the right to modify or amend, at any time and to any extent, any or all of the retirement and savings plans described in this Benefits Handbook. Amendments to any retirement or savings plan provision, including amendments regarding eligibility for participation and the benefits provided under a plan, are made only by written amendments to the applicable plan document. Amendments may be made by the Board of Directors of Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. The Board of Directors has delegated to certain officers the authority to adopt amendments necessary to keep these plans tax qualified or to make certain changes reasonably expected to have no more than a de minimis effect on MMC. Any material amendments are communicated to you by revising this section of the Benefits Handbook, or through Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc.'s internal employee communication channels, including the distribution of a Summary of Material Modifications.

Plan Termination

Health & Welfare Plans

While the Company intends to continue these benefit plans and programs indefinitely, the Company reserves the right to terminate or amend any or all of the health & welfare plans or any particular health or welfare benefit described in this Benefits Handbook, in whole or part, at any time and for any reason as it deems advisable, as to any or all employees covered. In fact, as a matter of prudent business planning, the Company periodically evaluates the Benefits Program.

Retirement and Savings Plans

While Marsh & McLennan Companies intends to continue the retirement and savings plans described in the Benefits Handbook indefinitely, Marsh & McLennan Companies reserves the right to terminate or amend any plan or all of the plans, in whole or part, at any time and for any reason as it deems advisable, as to any or all employees covered. In fact, as a matter of prudent business planning, Marsh & McLennan Companies periodically evaluates its benefits programs.

However, if Marsh & McLennan Companies should exercise its right to amend, modify or terminate a retirement plan, you will not be deprived of any benefit you have accrued to the date of such modification, suspension or termination, and you may have preserved rights as to your benefits (such as an account balance in a savings plan) as of the date of the change, although changes may be made retroactively to comply with applicable laws.

For the following retirement plans, if a plan is terminated or if there is a complete discontinuance of contributions, all accounts of affected participants that are not otherwise fully (100%) vested will become fully vested and will be paid to you under the circumstances and in the manner as determined by Marsh & McLennan Companies' Board of Directors:

- The Marsh & McLennan Companies 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan

- The MMA 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan

Amounts accumulated under these defined contribution plans are not insured by the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC), a federal agency, if any of these plans terminates.

Your accrued benefits under the Marsh & McLennan Companies Retirement Plan A/B are insured by the PBGC. If the plan terminates (ends) without enough money to pay all benefits, the PBGC will step in and may pay all or a portion of the pension benefits shortfall. If this were to occur some people may lose certain benefits.

The PBGC guarantee generally covers:

- normal and early retirement benefits;
- disability benefits if you become disabled before the plan terminates; and
- certain benefits for your survivors.

The PBGC guarantee generally does not cover:

- benefits greater than the maximum guaranteed amount set by law for the year in which the plan terminates;
- some or all of benefit increases and new benefits based on plan provisions that have been in place for fewer than 5 years at the time the plan terminates;
- benefits that are not vested because you have not worked long enough for the Company;
- benefits for which you have not met all of the requirements at the time the plan terminates;
- certain early retirement payments (such as supplemental benefits that stop when you become eligible for Social Security) that result in an early retirement monthly benefit greater than your monthly benefit at the plan's normal retirement age; and
- non-pension benefits, such as health insurance, life insurance, certain death benefits, vacation pay, and severance pay.

Even if certain of your benefits are not guaranteed, you may still receive some of these benefits from the PBGC depending on how much money your plan has and how much the PBGC collects from employers.

For more information about the PBGC and the benefits it guarantees, ask the Plan Administrator or contact the PBGC's Technical Assistance Division, 1200 K Street N.W., Suite 930, Washington, D.C. 20005-4026 or call +1 202 326 4000 (not a toll-free number). TTY/TDD users may call the federal relay toll-free at +1 800 877 8339 and ask to be connected to +1 202 326 4000. Additional information about the PBGC's pension insurance program is available through the PBGC's website on the Internet at www.pbgc.gov.

If it ever becomes necessary to terminate the Marsh & McLennan Companies Retirement Plan A/B, accrued benefits of affected participants will be fully 100% vested (to the extent funded or guaranteed) and assets will be used to pay out benefits in the form of non-transferable annuity contracts and/or lump sums in accordance with legal requirements. The Marsh & McLennan Companies Retirement Plan A/B provides that, in the event of a complete termination, any excess assets remaining after all liabilities have been satisfied will revert to the Company.

Other qualified plans may be merged into any of the retirement and savings plans, and any of the retirement and savings plans may also be merged, in whole or in part, into or with another plan. However, in no event will your benefit immediately after the transfer or merger (determined as if the plan terminated) be less than your benefit immediately prior to the transfer or merger (determined as if the plan terminated).

Limits on Plan Amendments

Limits on plan amendments, including changes in actuarial factors, options and subsidies

The Internal Revenue Code provides that no plan amendment may retroactively reduce your previously accrued benefit under a tax qualified plan, unless necessary to keep the plan tax qualified. This means, for example, that if the benefit formula is changed in the future by an amendment to the tax-qualified plan, your accrued benefit after the amendment may never be less than your accrued benefit before the amendment. These rules also currently provide that certain changes in the actuarial factors used to calculate your benefits and the options and early retirement subsidies available under that plan may not be applied to your accrued benefit prior to the change. In addition to being notified of any future changes in the benefit formula, you will be notified when tax qualified plan assumptions or options are changed if you need to be informed of any rights you have that were protected by law as of the date of the change.

Claims, Reviews, and Appeals

This section describes some general rules about claims and how benefits are paid, and how you can have a payment decision reviewed and how you can appeal a claim decision.

Authority over Benefit Determinations and Appeals

Health and Welfare Plans

The Claims Administrator or Plan Administrator, as applicable, has full discretion and authority to determine all claims for benefits under the Marsh & McLennan Companies Health & Welfare Benefits Program, Marsh & McLennan Companies Group Benefits Plan, and the Marsh & McLennan Companies Retiree Reimbursement Account. Claims concerning plan eligibility or enrollment, rather than payment of specific benefits, should be addressed to the Plan Administrator. Any action or determination in this review procedure will be final, conclusive, and binding on the Claims Administrators, the Plan Administrators, the Company, the plan participant or beneficiary and his or her legal representative, and the participant or beneficiary's family members and their legal representatives.

For the 2015 plan year, claims for reimbursement under the Health Care Flexible Spending Account Plan, Limited Purpose Health Care Flexible Spending Account Plan, or Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account must be for expenses incurred no later than March 15th and submitted no later than May 31st of the year following the Plan Year to which the expense was attributable (including any grace periods).

For plan years beginning on or after January 1, 2015, claims for reimbursement under the Health Care Flexible Spending Account Plan, Limited Purpose Health Care Flexible Spending Account Plan, or Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account must be for expenses incurred no later than December 31st and submitted no later than May 31st of the year following the Plan Year to which the expense was attributable.

The determination as to whether you should receive the pending health service is determined by you and your physician.

No legal action for benefits may be brought by any participant or beneficiary unless the plan's claim review procedure has been exhausted (that is, all appeals of adverse decisions have been made). Any such action (whether at law, in equity or otherwise) must be commenced within one year. This one-year period shall be computed from the earlier of (a) the date a final determination denying such benefit, in whole or in part, is issued under the plan's claim review procedure and (b) the date such individual's cause of action first accrued.

Tax-qualified Retirement and Savings Plans

The Plan Administrator of the Marsh & McLennan Companies 401(k) Savings and Investment Plan, the Marsh & McLennan Companies Retirement Plan A/B, and the Marsh & McLennan Agency 401(k) Savings & Investment Plan use the claims procedure described in this section of the Benefits Handbook to make determinations on claims for benefits under the applicable retirement or savings plan. The Plan Administrator has full discretion and the maximum authority permitted by law to interpret the applicable plan and make all initial claims/benefits determinations.

No legal action for benefits may be brought by any participant or beneficiary unless the plan's claim review procedure has been exhausted (that is, all appeals of adverse decisions have been made). Any such action (whether at law, in equity or otherwise) must be commenced within one year. This one-year period shall be computed from the earlier of (a) the date a final determination denying such benefit, in whole or in part, is issued under the plan's claim review procedure and (b) the date such individual's cause of action first accrued.

Fully Insured Medical Plans

Refer to the Kaiser's Evidence of Coverage for information on the benefits determination process including claims and appeals, for the medical plans insured by Kaiser.

Refer to HMSA's "Guide to Benefits" document for information on the benefits determination process including claims and appeals for the HMSA HMO and PPP plans.

For all other health care plans, your claim for benefits or your appeal will be processed under the procedures described below.

Medical, Dental, Vision, Health Care Flexible Spending Account, Limited Purpose Health Care Flexible Spending Account, Best Doctors, RRA, EAP, and Healthyroads Benefit Determinations

This section applies to the following health care plans:

- $350, $800, $1,500 and $2,850 Deductible Plans (unless insured by Kaiser)
- Marsh & McLennan Companies Dental Plan
- Marsh & McLennan Companies Vision Care Plan
- Marsh & McLennan Companies Health Care Flexible Spending Account Plan
- Marsh & McLennan Companies Limited Purpose Health Care Flexible Spending Account Plan
- Best Doctors Program
- Marsh & McLennan Companies RRA
- Marsh & McLennan Companies Employee Assistance Program
- Healthyroads Program

Three types of claims can be made for benefit determinations: pre-service claims, post-service claims, and claims involving urgent care.

- A pre-service claim is any claim for a benefit under a group health plan for which the plan requires approval or notification before medical care is obtained.
- A post-service claim is any claim for a benefit under a group health plan that is not a pre-service claim or a claim involving urgent care.
- A claim involving urgent care is any claim for medical care or treatment with respect to which the application of the time periods for making non-urgent care determinations could seriously jeopardize your life or health or your ability to regain maximum function, or, in the opinion of a physician with knowledge of your medical condition, would subject you to severe pain that cannot be adequately managed without the care or treatment that is the subject of the claim.

Claims for benefits and appeals of claims should be directed to the Claims Administrator for the applicable plan. See “Headings, Navigation Menus, Tables of Contents, Etc.” on page 1.

Note that the various headings and sub-headings in the Benefits Handbook (which produce the website navigation menus and the tables of contents in the printed version) are provided for your convenience and in no way define, limit, or otherwise describe the scope or intent of the plans. See “Administrative Details about the Plans” on page 1 for the name and contact information for the Claims Administrator for each plan.

Timing of Notification of Pre-service Claim Benefit Determination

In the case of a pre-service claim, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the benefit determination (whether adverse or not) no later than 15 days after your claim is received. This period may be extended one time by the Claims Administrator for up to 15 days, provided that the extension is necessary due to matters beyond the control of the Claims Administrator and you are notified prior to the expiration of the initial 15-day period of the circumstances requiring the extension and the date by which the Claims Administrator expects to render a decision. If additional information is needed to process the claim, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the information needed within 15 days after the claim was received and may request a one-time extension not longer than 15 days and suspend your claim until all information is received. Once notified of the extension, you then have 45 days to provide this information. If all of the needed information is received within the 45-day timeframe, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the determination within 15 days after the information is received. If you don't provide the needed information within the 45-day period, your claim will be denied.

Timing of Notification of Post-service Claim Benefit Determination

In the case of a post-service claim, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the benefit determination (whether adverse or not) no later than 30 days after your claim was received. This period may be extended one time by the Claims Administrator for up to 15 days, provided that the extension is necessary due to matters beyond the control of the Claims Administrator and you are notified prior to the expiration of the initial 30-day period of the circumstances requiring the extension and the date by which the Claims Administrator expects to render a decision. If additional information is needed to process the claim, the Claims Administrator will notify you within this 30-day period and may request a one-time extension of not more than 15 days and suspend your claim until all information is received. Once notified of the extension, you then have 45 days to provide this information. If all of the needed information is received within the 45-day timeframe, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the determination within 15 days after the information is received. If you don't provide the needed information within the 45-day period, your claim will be denied.

Timing of Notification of Benefit Determinations Involving Urgent Care Claims

In the case of a claim involving urgent care, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the benefit determination (whether adverse or not) no later than 72 hours after your claim is received. If additional information is needed to process the claim, the Claims Administrator will notify you within 24 hours after receipt of your claim of the specific information necessary to complete the claim. Once notified of the extension, you then have 48 hours to provide this information. If all of the needed information is received within the 48-hour timeframe, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the determination within 48 hours after the information is received. If you don't provide the needed information within the 48-hour period, your claim will be denied.

Ongoing Treatment Involving Urgent Care Claims

If an ongoing course of treatment was previously approved for a specific period of time or number of treatments, and the treatment involves urgent care, your request will be decided within 24 hours, provided your request is made at least 24 hours prior to the end of the approved treatment. The Claims Administrator will make a determination on your request for the extended treatment within 24 hours from receipt of your request. If you do not make a request for extended treatment involving urgent care at least 24 hours prior to the end of the approved treatment, the request will be treated as an urgent care claim and decided according to the urgent care claim benefit determination timeframes, (i.e., no later than 72 hours from receipt of your request).

Ongoing Treatment Not Involving Urgent Care Claims

If a request to extend a course of treatment beyond the period of time or number of treatments previously approved does not involve urgent care, the request will be treated as a new benefit claim and decided within the time frame appropriate to the type of claim (i.e., as a pre-service or post-service claim).

Improper Filing of Pre-Service Claims and Urgent Care Claims

If you filed an urgent care claim improperly, within 24 hours of receipt, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the improper filing and how to correct it.

If you filed a pre-service claim improperly, within five days of receipt, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the improper filing and how to correct it.

Appeal of Benefit Determinations Not Involving Urgent Care Claims

If you believe your benefits under a plan were denied improperly, you may file a written appeal for the unpaid amount within 180 days of your receipt of notification of the adverse benefit determination. The written appeal should specify the nature and amount of the claim, include any other written comments, documents, records or other information that may be pertinent and should be sent to the Claims Administrator. Your appeal will be conducted by a person different from the person who made the initial decision. No deference will be afforded to the initial determination.

If your claim involves a medical judgment question, the Claims Administrator will consult with an appropriately qualified health care practitioner with training and experience in the field of medicine involved. If a health care professional was consulted for the initial determination, a different health care professional will be consulted on appeal. Upon request, the Claims Administrator will provide you with the identification of any medical expert whose advice was obtained on behalf of the Plan in connection with your appeal.

If you are not satisfied with the first level appeal decision of the Claims Administrator, you have the right to request a second level appeal from the Claims Administrator. Your second level appeal request must be submitted to the Claims Administrator within 60 days from receipt of the first level appeal decision.

For appeals of a pre-service claim, the first level appeal will be conducted, and you will be notified by the Claims Administrator of the decision within 15 days from receipt of a request for appeal of a denied claim. The second level appeal will be conducted and you will be notified by the Claims Administrator of the decision within 15 days from receipt of a request for review of the first level appeal decision.

For appeals of a post-service claim, the first level appeal will be conducted, and you will be notified by the Claims Administrator of the decision within 30 days from receipt of a request for appeal of a denied claim. The second level appeal will be conducted, and you will be notified by the Claims Administrator of the decision within 30 days from receipt of a request for review of the first level appeal decision.

Appeal of Benefit Determinations Involving Urgent Care Claims

Your appeal may require immediate action if a delay in treatment could significantly increase the risk to your health or the ability to regain maximum function or cause severe pain. In these urgent situations, the appeal does not need to be submitted in writing. You or your physician should call the Claims Administrator as soon as possible. The Claims Administrator will provide you with a written or electronic determination within 72 hours following receipt of your request for review of the determination taking into account the seriousness of your condition.

Your appeal will be conducted by a person different from the person who made the initial decision. No deference will be afforded to the initial determination.

If your claim involves a medical judgment question, the Claims Administrator will consult with an appropriately qualified health care practitioner with training and experience in the field of medicine involved. If a health care professional was consulted for the initial determination, a different health care professional will be consulted on appeal. Upon request, the Claims Administrator will provide you with the identification of any medical expert whose advice was obtained on behalf of the plan in connection with your appeal.

Claims Concerning Eligibility and Enrollment

If your claim concerns whether or not you or a family member is eligible for coverage under the plan or whether you or a family member has properly enrolled in the plan, you may file a claim with the Plan Administrator for coverage. The claim should be in writing and specify the circumstances under which you do not have coverage, why you believe you should have coverage and include any mitigating factors, documents, records or other information that may be pertinent and should be sent to the Plan Administrator. You may file a written appeal with the Plan Administrator within 180 days of your notification of an adverse claim determination. A written appeal of a denied claim should include all the information necessary for the original claim as well as any additional information you would like the plan to consider.

Notice of Determination

If your claim or appeal is in part or wholly denied, you will receive notice of an adverse benefit determination that will:

- state specific reason(s) of the adverse determination
- reference specific plan provision(s) on which the benefit determination is based
- describe additional material or information, if any, needed to perfect the claim and the reasons such material or information is necessary (initial claim only)
- describe the plan's claims review procedures and the time limits applicable to such procedures (initial claim only)
- include a statement of your right to bring a civil action under section 502(a) of ERISA following appeal
- state that you are entitled to receive, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to the claim for benefits (appeal only)
- describe any voluntary appeal procedures offered by the plan and your right to obtain information about such procedures (appeal only)
- disclose any internal rule, guidelines, or protocol relied on in making the adverse determination (or state that such information will be provided free of charge upon request)
- if the denial is based on a medical necessity or experimental treatment or similar limit, explain the scientific or clinical judgment for the determination (or state that such information will be provided free of charge upon request)
- include information sufficient to identify the claim involved, including date of service, health care provider, and claim amount (for $350, $800, $1,500, and $2,850 Deductible Plans only)
- include the denial code and corresponding meaning (for $350, $800, $1,500, and $2,850 Deductible Plans only)

- include a statement describing the availability, upon request, of the diagnosis code and its corresponding meaning and treatment code and its corresponding meaning (for $350, $800, $1,500, and $2,850 Deductible Plans only)
- describe the Claims Administrator's or Insurer's standard, if any, used in denying the claim (for $350, $800, $1,500, and $2,850 Deductible Plans only)
- describe the external review process, if applicable (for $350, $800, $1,500, and $2,850 Deductible Plans only)
- include a statement about the availability of, and contact information for, any applicable office of health insurance consumer assistance or ombudsman established under health care reform laws to assist individuals with internal claims and appeals and external review processes (for $350, $800, $1,500, and $2,850 Deductible Plans only)

External Appeals Review

Only with respect to the $350, $800, $1,500, and $2,850 Deductible Plans, you may have the right to request an independent review with respect to any claim that involves medical judgment or a rescission of coverage. Your external review will be conducted by an independent review organization not affiliated with the plans. This independent review organization may overturn the plans' decision, and the independent review organization's decision is binding on the plans. Your appeal denial notice will include more information about your right to file a request for an external review and contact information. You must file your request for external review within four months of receiving your final internal appeal determination. Filing a request for external review will not affect your ability to bring a legal claim in court. When filing a request for external review, you will be required to authorize the release of any medical records that may be required to be reviewed for the purpose of reaching a decision on the external review.

Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account Plan

This section applies to the Marsh & McLennan Companies Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account Plan.

Timing of Notification of Benefits Determination

In the case of a claim, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the benefit determination (whether adverse or not) no later than 90 days after your claim was received. This period may be extended one time by the Claims Administrator for up to 90 days, provided that the extension is necessary due to matters beyond the control of the Claims Administrator and you are notified prior to the expiration of the initial 90-day period of the circumstances requiring the extension and the date by which the Claims Administrator expects to render a decision. If additional information is needed to process the claim, the Claims Administrator will notify you within this 90-day period and may request a one-time extension of not more than 90 days and suspend your claim until all information is received.

Appeal of Benefits Determinations

If you believe your benefits under a plan were denied improperly, you may file a written appeal for the unpaid amount within 60 days of receipt of notification of the adverse benefit determination. The written appeal should specify the amount of the claim, include any other written comments, documents, records or other information that may be pertinent, and should be sent to the Claims Administrator.

If you are not satisfied with the first level appeal decision of the Claims Administrator, you have the right to request a second level appeal from the Claims Administrator. Your second level appeal request must be submitted to the Claims Administrator within 180 days from receipt of the first level appeal decision. The second level appeal will be conducted, and you will be notified by the Claims Administrator of the decision within 60 days from receipt of a request for review of the first level appeal decision.

Disability Plans

This section applies to the following plans:

- Marsh & McLennan Companies Basic Long Term Disability Plan
- Marsh & McLennan Companies Optional Long Term Disability Plan
- Marsh & McLennan Companies Long Term Disability Bonus Income Plan

Unless otherwise provided in the applicable insurance policy/evidence of coverage, your claim for benefits or your appeal will be processed under the procedures described below.

Timing of Notification of Claim for Disability Benefits Determinations

In the case of a claim for disability benefits, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the benefit determination (whether adverse or not) no later than 45 days after your claim was received. This period may be extended one time by the Claims Administrator for up to 30 days, provided that the extension is necessary due to matters beyond the control of the Claims Administrator and you are notified prior to the expiration of the initial 45-day period of the circumstances requiring the extension and the date by which the Claims Administrator expects to render a decision. If prior to the end of the first 30-day extension period, the administrator determines that, due to matters beyond the control of the plan, a decision cannot be rendered within that extension period, the period for making the determination may be extended for up to an additional 30 days, provided that the Plan Administrator notifies the claimant, prior to the expiration of the first 30-day extension period, of the circumstances requiring the extension and the date as of which the plan expects to render a decision.

If additional information is needed to process the claim, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the information needed within this 45-day period and may request a one-time extension not longer than 45 days and suspend your claim until all information is received. Once notified of the extension, you then have 45 days to provide this information. If all of the needed information is received within the 45-day timeframe, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the determination within 30 days after the information is received. If you don't provide the needed information within the 45-day period, your claim will be denied.

Timing of Appeal of Claim for Disability Benefits Determinations

If you believe your claim for disability benefits under the plan was denied improperly, you may file a written claim for the unpaid amount within 180 days of receipt of the denial. The written claim should specify the amount of the claim and any other written comments, documents, records or other information that may be pertinent and should be sent to the Claims Administrator. Your appeal will be conducted by a person different from the person who made the initial decision. No deference will be afforded to the initial determination.

The first level appeal will be conducted, and you will be notified by the Claims Administrator of the decision within 45 days from receipt of a request for appeal of a denied claim. This period may be extended one time by the Claims Administrator for up to 45 days, provided that you are notified prior to the expiration of the initial 45-day period of the circumstances requiring the extension and the date by which the Claims Administrator expects to render a decision.

If you are not satisfied with the first level appeal decision of the Claims Administrator, you have the right to request a second level appeal from the Claims Administrator. Your second level appeal request must be submitted to the Claims Administrator within 180 days from receipt of the first level appeal decision. The second level appeal will be conducted, and you will be notified by the Claims Administrator of the decision within 45 days from receipt of a request for review of the first level appeal decision.

If you do not file a written request for appeal of a denied claim within 180 days from the date you received your claim denial, your claim will be closed and your right to appeal will terminate. Appeals that are submitted after this timeframe cannot be considered.

Notice of Determination

If your claim or appeal is in part or wholly denied, you will receive notice of an adverse benefit determination that will:

- state specific reason(s) of the adverse determination
- reference specific plan provision(s) on which the benefit determination is based
- describe additional material or information, if any, needed to perfect the claim and the reasons such material or information is necessary (initial claim only)
- describe the plan's claims review procedures and the time limits applicable to such procedures (initial claim only)

- include a statement of your right to bring a civil action under section 502(a) of ERISA following appeal
- state that you are entitled to receive, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to the claim for benefits (appeal only)
- disclose any internal rule, guidelines, or protocol relied on in making the adverse determination (or state that such information will be provided free of charge upon request)
- if the denial is based on a medical necessity or experimental treatment or similar limit, explain the scientific or clinical judgment for the determination (or state that such information will be provided free of charge upon request)
- describe any voluntary appeal procedures offered by the plan and your right to obtain information about such procedures (appeal only)

Life Insurance, Accident Insurance, Legal Assistance, and Long Term Care Plans

This section applies to the following plans:

- Marsh & McLennan Companies Basic Life Insurance Plan
- Marsh & McLennan Companies Group Variable Universal Life Insurance Plan
- Marsh & McLennan Companies Business Travel Accident Insurance Plan
- Marsh & McLennan Companies Voluntary AD&D Plan
- Marsh & McLennan Companies Legal Assistance Plan
- Marsh & McLennan Companies Long Term Care Insurance Plan

Timing of Notification of Benefits Determination

In the case of a claim, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the benefit determination (whether adverse or not) no later than 90 days after your claim was received. If an extension of time for processing is required due to special circumstances, this time may be extended for an additional 90 days. You will receive notice prior to the extension that indicates the special circumstances requiring the extension and the date by which the Claims Administrator expects to render a determination.

Timing of Appeal of Benefits Determination

If you believe your claim for benefits under a plan was denied improperly, you may file a written claim for the unpaid amount within 60 days of receipt of the denial. The written claim should specify the amount of the claim and include any other written comments, documents, records or other information that may be pertinent. The claim should be sent to the Claims Administrator. The first level appeal will be conducted, and you will be notified by the Claims Administrator of the decision within 60 days from receipt of a request for appeal of a denied claim. If the Claims Administrator determines that an extension is necessary due to special circumstances, this time may be extended for an additional 60 days. You will receive notice prior to the extension that indicates the special circumstances requiring the extension and the date by which the Claims Administrator expects to render a determination.

If you are not satisfied with the first level appeal decision of the Claims Administrator, you have the right to request a second level appeal from the Claims Administrator as the Plan Administrator. Your second level appeal request must be submitted to the Claims Administrator within 180 days from receipt of the first level appeal decision. The second level appeal will be conducted, and you will be notified by the Claims Administrator of the decision within 60 days from receipt of a request for review of the first level appeal decision.

Notice of Determination

If your claim or appeal is in part or wholly denied, you will receive notice of an adverse benefit determination that will:

- state specific reason(s) of the adverse determination
- reference specific plan provision(s) on which the benefit determination is based
- describe additional material or information, if any, needed to perfect the claim and the reasons such material or information is necessary (initial claim only)
- describe the plan's claims review procedures and the time limits applicable to such procedures (initial claim only)
- include a statement of your right to bring a civil action under section 502(a) of ERISA following appeal
- state that you are entitled to receive, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to the claim for benefits (appeal only)
- describe any voluntary appeal procedures offered by the plan and your right to obtain information about such procedures (appeal only).

Retirement and Savings Plans

Timing of Notification of Benefits Determination

In the case of a claim, the Plan Administrator will notify you of the benefit determination (whether adverse or not) no later than 90 days after your claim was received. This period may be extended one time by the Plan Administrator for up to 90 days, provided that the extension is necessary due to matters beyond the control of the Plan Administrator and/or the Benefits Administration Committee and you are notified prior to the expiration of the initial 90-day period of the circumstances requiring the extension and the date by which the Plan Administrator expects to render a decision. If additional information is needed to process the claim, the Plan Administrator and/or the Benefits Administration Committee will notify you within this 90-day period and may request a one-time extension of not more than 90 days and suspend your claim until all information is received. A denial notice will explain the reason for denial, refer to the part of the plan on which the denial is based, describe any additional material or information necessary to complete claim so it may be processed, provide the claim appeal procedures, and include a statement of your right to bring a civil action under section 502(a) of ERISA if your appeal is denied.

Appeal of Benefits Determinations

If you believe a benefit under a retirement or savings plan was denied improperly by the Plan Administrator, you or your representative may file a written appeal for the unpaid amount within 60 days of receipt of notification of the adverse benefit determination. The written appeal should specify the nature and amount of the claim, include any other written comments, documents, records or other information that may be pertinent and should be sent to the Plan Administrator. A written decision will usually be issued by the Plan Administrator within 60 days of your written appeal. This period may be extended for up to 60 days by the Plan Administrator if the Plan Administrator determines that the extension is necessary. You will be notified prior to the expiration of the initial 60-day period of the circumstances requiring the extension and the date by which the Plan Administrator expects to render a decision. If your appeal is denied, the written decision will explain the reason for denial, refer to the section of the plan on which the denial is based, inform you that, if you request, you are entitled to receive, at no cost, reasonable access and copies of all relevant documents, and include a statement of your right to bring a civil action under section 502(a) of ERISA if your appeal is denied.

Upon request, you will be provided, free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of all documents, records, and other information relevant to your claim for benefits.

Right of Recovery/Subrogation

Unless otherwise stated in the applicable insurance policy/evidence of coverage or benefits booklet/summary, any benefits under the Marsh & McLennan Companies Health & Welfare Benefits Program, Marsh & McLennan Companies Group Benefits Plan and Marsh & McLennan Companies Retiree Reimbursement Account (the "Plans") will be subject to the reimbursement and subrogation rules below. This section applies to your eligible dependents the same as it applies to you.

Reimbursement to Plans if You Recover Payment for an Injury or Illness

This section applies if you or your legal representative, estate or heirs recover money or other property for an injury, sickness or other condition, or if you have made, or in the future may make, such a recovery, including a recovery from any insurance carrier.

The Plans will not cover either the reasonable value of the services to treat such an injury, sickness, or other condition or the treatment of such an injury, sickness, or other condition. These benefits are specifically excluded.

The Plans may, however, advance moneys or provide benefits for such an injury, sickness, or other condition, and, if so, you must promptly convey moneys or other property from any settlement, arbitration award, verdict, insurance payment, or other recovery from any party to the Plans in the amount of moneys or of the benefits advanced or provided by the Plans to you, regardless of whether or not (1) you have been fully compensated or made whole for your loss, (2) liability is admitted by you or any other party, or (3) your recovery is itemized or specified as a recovery for medical expenses incurred.

If a recovery is made, the Plans shall have first priority in payment over you or any other party to receive reimbursement of the moneys and value of the other benefits advanced on your behalf. This reimbursement shall be from any recovery made by you and includes, but is not limited to, uninsured and underinsured motorist coverage, any no-fault insurance, medical payment coverage (auto, homeowners, or otherwise), workers' compensation settlement, compromises or awards, other group insurance (including student plans), and direct recoveries from liable parties.

You must assign to the Plans any benefits you may have under any automobile policy or other coverage, to the extent of the Plans' claim for reimbursement. You must sign and deliver, at the request of the Plans or its agents, any documents needed to effect such assignment of benefits.

You must cooperate with the Plans and its agents and shall sign and deliver such documents as the Plans or its agents reasonably request to protect the Plans' right of reimbursement, provide any relevant information, and take such actions as the Plan or its agents reasonably request to assist the Plans making a full recovery of the reasonable value of the moneys or other benefits provided.

You shall not take any action that prejudices the Plans' rights of reimbursement and consents to the right of the Plans, by and through its agent, to impress an equitable lien or constructive trust on the proceeds of any recovery to enforce the Plans' rights under this section, and/or to set off from any future benefits otherwise payable under the Plans the value of moneys and other benefits advanced under this section to the extent not recovered by the Plans.

The Plans shall be responsible only for those legal fees and expenses to which it agrees in writing. You shall not incur any expenses on behalf of the Plans in pursuit of the Plans' rights. Specifically, no court costs or attorney's fees may be deducted from the Plans' recovery without the express written consent of the Plan. Any so-called "Fund Doctrine," "Common Fund Doctrine," "Attorney's Fund Doctrine," or other equitable defenses shall not defeat this right.

The Plans shall recover the full amount of moneys and the value of the benefits advanced and paid hereunder, without regard to any claim or fault on the part of any beneficiary of yours, whether under comparative negligence or otherwise.

Plans' Right to Subrogation

This section applies if another party is, or may be considered, liable for your injury, sickness, or other condition (including insurance carriers who are financially liable).

The Plans will not cover either the reasonable value of the services to treat such an injury, sickness, or other condition or the treatment of such an injury, sickness, or other condition. These benefits are specifically excluded.

The Plans may, however, advance moneys or provide benefits for such an injury, sickness, or other condition, and, if so, the Plans are subrogated to all of your rights against any party liable for your injury, sickness, or other condition, or who is or may be liable for the payment for the medical treatment of such injury, sickness, or other condition (including any insurance carrier), in the amount of moneys or value of other benefits advanced or provided by the Plans to you. The Plans may assert this right independently of you. This right includes, but is not limited to, your rights under uninsured and underinsured motorist coverage, any no-fault insurance, medical payment coverage (auto, homeowners, or otherwise), workers' compensation coverage, or other insurance. The Plans are not obligated in any way to pursue this right independently or on your behalf, but may choose to pursue its rights to reimbursement under the Plans, at its sole discretion.

You are obligated to cooperate with the Plans and its agents to protect the Plans' subrogation rights. Your obligations include, but are not limited to, providing the Plan or its agents with any relevant information requested by them, signing and delivering such documents as the Plans or its agents reasonably request to enforce the Plans' subrogation right, and obtaining the consent of the Plans or its agents before releasing any party from liability for payment of medical expenses.

If you enter into litigation or settlement negotiations relating to your injury, sickness or other condition, you must not prejudice, in any way, the subrogation rights of the Plans under this section. If you fail to cooperate as provided in this section, including executing any documents required in this section, the Plans may, in addition to remedies provided elsewhere in the Plans and/or under the law, set off from any future benefits otherwise payable under the Plans the money and value of other benefits advanced under this section to the extent not recovered by the Plans.

The costs of legal representation of the Plans in matters related to subrogation shall be borne solely by the Plans. The costs of your legal representation shall be borne solely by you.

Equitable Lien

By accepting any benefits advanced by the Plans under this section, you acknowledge that any proceeds of settlement or judgment, including your claim to such proceeds held by another person or held by you, are being held for the benefit of the Plans under these provisions. If the Plans advance moneys or provides benefits for an injury, sickness, or other conditions, and you recover moneys or benefits from a third party in the amount of the moneys or benefits advanced, the Plans have an equitable lien in connection with any such payments. Failure to hold such received funds in trust, and in a separate, identifiable account, will be deemed a breach of your fiduciary duty to the Plans.

Notice

You specifically agree to notify the Plans in writing whenever benefits are paid under the Plans that arise out of any injury, sickness, or other condition that provides or may provide the Plans subrogation or reimbursement rights. Furthermore, you specifically agree to notify the Plans: (1) within 30 days of the date any notice is given by any party, including an attorney, of its intent to pursue or investigate a claim to recover damages or obtain compensation due to an injury, sickness, or other condition; or (2) within 30 days of the date any party, including an attorney, undertakes, pursues, or investigates a claim to recover damages or obtain compensation due to an injury, sickness, other condition.

Waiver

The Plan Administrator in its sole and absolute discretion may waive or modify any or all of the provisions of this rule.

Conversion or Portability Rights

Basic Life Insurance Plan

To exercise your conversion rights, you must be enrolled in plan coverage at the time you experience the event that results in the loss of policy. You must contact the Claims Administrator within 31 days to exercise your conversion rights for plan coverage.

You may convert the entire amount of your current plan coverage. Premiums for the converted policy are determined by the Claims Administrator and are based on the amount of coverage.

Group Variable Universal Life (GVUL) Insurance Plan

To exercise your conversion or portability rights, you must be enrolled in plan coverage at the time you experience the event that results in the loss of policy. You must contact the Claims Administrator within 31 days to exercise your conversion rights for plan coverage.

The Plan includes a portability feature that allows you to continue coverage on a direct bill basis at retirement or termination of employment. Conversion to a personal policy of insurance is also available if portability is not elected, under certain circumstances.

Legal Assistance Plan

If you are enrolled in the Legal Assistance Plan at the time you experience the event that results in the loss of coverage, you can elect to continue the plan for two years on an individual basis. You (or your approved spouse or domestic partner in the event of your death) must contact the Claims Administrator and pay the required contribution within 31 days of the date you lose coverage.

Long Term Care Plan

If you leave the Company, you will have the option of continuing your coverage at your current premium rate. Upon termination, you must contact the Claims Administrator to arrange for continuation of premium payments directly to Genworth.

Voluntary AD&D Plan

To exercise your conversion rights, you must be enrolled in plan coverage at the time you experience the event that results in the loss of policy. Generally, you must contact the Claims Administrator within 31 days to exercise your conversion rights for plan coverage.

Non-Assignment of Benefits

Generally, benefits under the Company's plans may not be sold, transferred, pledged or assigned before you receive them, except as permitted by law. For certain healthcare plans, however, you may assign your benefits to the person or organization that provided the services the benefit is being paid to cover. And in certain situations, court orders may require benefits to be provided for a certain individual or individuals, typically an employee's family member.

Qualified Medical Child Support Order (QMCSO)

A qualified medical child support order, also known as a QMCSO, is any judgment, decree or order, including a court-approved settlement agreement, issued by a domestic relations court or other court of competent jurisdiction, or through an administrative process established under state law which has the force and effect of law in that state, and which assigns to a child the right to receive health benefits for which a participant or beneficiary is eligible, and that the Plan Administrator determines is qualified under the terms of ERISA and applicable state law. Children who may be covered under a QMCSO include children born out of wedlock, those not claimed as dependents on your federal income tax return, and children who don't reside with you. The plan won't provide coverage it doesn't otherwise offer—for example, children who are no longer eligible due to their age can't be added under a QMCSO.

The Company will comply with all valid QMCSOs. You and your dependents may receive, upon request to the Plan Administrator and without charge, a copy of the procedures applicable to QMCSOs.

Qualified Domestic Relations Order (QDRO)

A qualified domestic relations order, also known as a QDRO, is a state court order, decree or judgment that directs a Plan Administrator to pay all or a portion of your retirement and/or savings plan benefits to a former spouse or a dependent. The terms of the applicable plan control all questions of benefit entitlement and calculation. The plan can honor a QDRO (and make payments) only if the QDRO is properly prepared and documented and meets the criteria for QDROs pursuant to ERISA. A QDRO can't modify the terms of the plan.

The Company will notify you if it receives a QDRO affecting your retirement/savings plan benefits. You and your former spouse or dependents may obtain a copy of the procedures governing the processing of a QDRO without charge by contacting:

About Plan Coverage

Healthcare Plans

If You No Longer Satisfy the Plan's Eligibility Requirements

Your plan coverage ends on the date you no longer satisfy the plan's eligibility requirements. Coverage for eligible family members ends when yours does.

When your Company plan coverage ends, COBRA coverage may be available, as described in the Participation sections of the Benefits Handbook.

If You Die

If you die while you are an active employee with employee only, employee + spouse, employee + child(ren) or family coverage, your covered family members can continue to be covered (with Company subsidy) for up to 12 months if they pay the contribution required for family members. When this period ends, your eligible family members may be eligible for coverage under COBRA. For information on COBRA, see the Participation section of the Benefits Handbook.

If Your Family Member Loses Eligibility Status

If your family member no longer meets the eligibility requirements, his or her coverage under the plan ends.

It is your responsibility to cancel coverage when a family member is no longer eligible. No refund of contributions will be paid beyond the date eligibility ceases.

Family members who lose coverage under the Company plans may be eligible for coverage under COBRA provisions described in the Participation sections of the Benefits Handbook.

If You Become Disabled

During a period of approved disability, your plan coverage will continue for you and your covered family members. Your deductibles and out-of-pocket limits will continue at the same level as at the time your disability began. During a period of approved short-term disability, your employee contributions for coverage will be deducted from your short-term disability benefit on a before-tax basis. During a period of approved long-term disability, it is your responsibility to pay any contributions due for plan coverage on an after-tax basis.

If You Have an Authorized Unpaid Leave of Absence

If the Company grants you an authorized unpaid leave of absence, medical coverage for you and your family members may continue for the duration of your authorized period of leave. It is your responsibility to pay any employee contributions due on an after-tax basis. (If your leave is covered by the Family and Medical Leave Act, you may prepay certain contributions on a before-tax basis by authorizing a lump-sum payroll deduction prior to the start of your leave.)

If you elect to revoke coverage and you return to employment, your participation will be reinstated automatically in the same benefit option in effect before you left, on the same terms as prior to taking the leave, subject to any changes in benefit levels that may have taken place while you were on leave.

If You Leave and Are Rehired

If you leave salaried employment and are rehired as a salaried employee within 30 days in the same calendar year, your participation will be reinstated automatically with the same before-tax contributions in effect before you left.

If the Company Ends the Benefit

While the Company intends to maintain the plans, the Company reserves the right to terminate or amend these plans, in whole or part, at any time and for any reason as it deems advisable, as to any and all employees covered. In fact, as a matter of prudent business planning, the Company periodically evaluates the plans. If the Company ends a benefit under the plan or terminates the plan, your coverage for that benefit or under the plan, as applicable, ends on that date.

Health Care Flexible Spending Account and Limited Purpose Health Care Flexible Spending Account

If You No Longer Satisfy the Plan's Eligibility Requirements

Your before-tax contributions to the HCFSA or the LPHCFSA will end on the date you no longer satisfy the plan's eligibility requirements. You may receive reimbursements up to your total annual election amount (less any reimbursement amounts you may have already received) for expenses incurred before the date you no longer satisfied the plan's eligibility requirements. In addition, you may elect to continue your coverage on an after-tax basis under COBRA as described in the Participation sections of the Benefits Handbook.

If You Leave and Are Rehired

If you leave salaried employment and are rehired as a salaried employee within 30 days in the same calendar year, your participation will be reinstated automatically with the same before-tax contributions in effect before you left.

If You Die

Your before-tax contributions will end on the day of your death. Your family can continue receiving reimbursement from the plan for expenses incurred until your date of death. Reimbursement may equal your total annual election amount (less any reimbursement amounts you may have already received). Your qualified beneficiary may elect to continue your participation to year end, on an after-tax basis, through COBRA. See the Participation section of the Benefits Handbook for more details.

If You Become Disabled

Your before-tax contributions will continue while you are receiving Short Term Disability benefits. If you then become eligible for Long Term Disability benefits, your before-tax contributions to your account will cease. You may receive reimbursement up to your total annual election amount (less any reimbursement amount you may have already received) for eligible expenses incurred prior to the date you are placed on Long Term Disability. You may elect to continue your participation (less any reimbursements already made) to plan year end, on an after-tax basis, under COBRA. See the Participation section of the Benefits Handbook for more details.

If You Have an Authorized Unpaid Leave of Absence

Your before-tax contributions to the plan will cease on the day you begin leave. (In some circumstances, COBRA participation may be available.)

Upon return to work, your before-tax contributions will resume. The amount of your before-tax contributions will be recalculated for the remainder of the year to “catch-up” for your missed contributions while on leave. The balance of your annual election will be divided by your remaining pay dates, spreading the balance over the rest of your paychecks for the year. This will increase you per pay period contribution upon return from leave. Any eligible expenses you incur while on leave will be paid.

If the Company Ends the Benefit

While the Company intends to maintain the plans, the Company reserves the right to terminate or amend these plans, in whole or part, at any time and for any reason as it deems advisable, as to any or all employees covered. In fact, as a matter of prudent business planning, the Company periodically evaluates the plans. If the Company terminates the plan, your coverage under the plan ends on the date of termination.

Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account

If You No Longer Satisfy the Plan’s Eligibility Requirements

Your before-tax contributions to the DCFSA will end on the date you no longer satisfy the plan’s eligibility requirements. You may receive reimbursements up to the remaining balance in your account for expenses incurred before the date you no longer satisfied the plan's eligibility requirements.

If You Leave and Are Rehired

If you leave salaried employment and are rehired as a salaried employee within 30 days in the same calendar year, your participation will be reinstated automatically with the same annual election in effect before you left.

If You Die

Your before-tax contributions will end on the day of your death. Your family can continue receiving reimbursement from the plan for expenses incurred until your date of death. Your expenses may be reimbursed up to the contributions remaining in your account.

If You Discontinue Contributions While in Active Service

If you discontinue contributions to the plan due to a change in status, but remain employed by the Company, only expenses incurred before contributions ceased are eligible for reimbursement, and only up to the balance remaining in your account.

If You Become Disabled

Your before-tax contributions will continue while you are receiving Short Term Disability benefits. If you then become eligible for Long Term Disability benefits, your before-tax contributions to your account will cease. You may receive reimbursement up to the remaining balance for eligible expenses incurred prior to the date you are placed on Long Term Disability. Remember, however, that expenses are only reimbursable if they enable you or your spouse to work or look for work or enable your spouse to go to school full-time.

If You Have an Authorized Unpaid Leave of Absence

Your before-tax contributions to the plan will cease on the day you begin leave.

If you return to active employment within the same plan year, your participation will be reinstated automatically with the same annual election in effect before you left.

If the Company Ends the Benefit

While the Company intends to maintain the plans, the Company reserves the right to terminate or amend this plan, in whole or part, at any time and for any reason as it deems advisable, as to any or all employees covered. In fact, as a matter of prudent business planning, the Company periodically evaluates the plans. If the Company terminates the plan, your coverage under the plan ends on the date of termination.

Health Savings Account

If You No Longer Satisfy the Eligibility Requirements

Your before-tax contributions to an HSA will end on the date you no longer satisfy the eligibility requirements to make before-tax contributions, for example, if you do not have medical coverage under a high deductible health plan. However, after that date, you may make contributions directly to the HSA Administrator which may be deductible on your federal tax return. Please consult your personal tax advisor. You may also receive reimbursements from your account. Amounts contributed to an HSA belong to you and are completely portable. You cannot roll the HSA funds over into an IRA. You may keep your HSA with the current provider or you can roll the HSA funds into another HSA account with another provider.

If You Leave and Are Rehired

If you leave salaried employment and are rehired as a salaried employee within 30 days in the same calendar year, your HSA contribution election will be reinstated automatically with the same before-tax contributions in effect before you left. You are permitted to change your election amount at any time.

If You Die

Your before-tax contributions will end on the day of your death. Your beneficiary will receive your account. The tax treatment depends on who you have designated as your beneficiary. For example, if you designate your spouse as your beneficiary, your spouse becomes the owner of the HSA and the transfer is not subject to taxation unless your spouse receives a distribution that is not used for a qualified medical expense. If your designated beneficiary is anyone else, your account ceases to be an HSA and your beneficiary will receive the fair market value of the HSA assets as of the date of your death, which is generally includible in the beneficiary's gross income. Unless your beneficiary is your estate, the taxable amount is reduced by any payments from your HSA made for your qualified medical expenses incurred before your death, if the payments are made within one year after death. You should consider talking to a professional tax advisor before you designate a beneficiary.

If You Discontinue Contributions

If you discontinue before-tax contributions to the HSA, you may continue to receive reimbursements from your account. Any unused balance in your account at the end of the calendar year will be carried forward to the next calendar year, even if you do not elect to make before-tax contributions to the HSA in the next year. You may also make after-tax contributions directly to the Health Savings Account Administrator which may be deductible on your federal tax return. Please consult your personal tax advisor.

If You Become Disabled

Your before-tax contributions will continue to the HSA while you are receiving Short Term Disability benefits. If you then become eligible for Long Term Disability benefits, your before-tax contributions to your account will cease, but you may make contributions directly to the HSA Administrator, which may be deductible on your federal tax return. Please consult your personal tax advisor. You may continue to receive reimbursements from your account.

If You Have an Authorized Unpaid Leave of Absence

Your before-tax contributions to your HSA will cease on the day you begin leave. However, your contributions may be made on an after-tax basis directly to the HSA Administrator during the leave, which may be deductible on your federal tax return. Please consult your personal tax advisor.

You may continue to receive reimbursements from your account, regardless of whether you make any contributions during the leave.

If you return to active employment within the same plan year, your participation will be reinstated automatically with the same before-tax contribution in effect before you left. However, you may change your election at any time.

If the Company Ends the Before-Tax HSA Contribution Option

While the Company intends to maintain the ability to make before-tax contributions via payroll deduction to the HSA, the Company reserves the right to terminate or amend the ability to contribute via payroll deduction to the HSA, at any time and for any reason as it deems advisable, as to any or all employees covered. In fact, as a matter of prudent business planning, the Company periodically evaluates its before-tax benefits offerings.

Other Important Information about the Plans

Not a Contract of Employment

These plans and the Benefits Handbook, whether on a single basis or in combination, are not a contract of employment and do not give any individual a right of employment or continued employment with Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc.

If a Mistake Occurs

Every effort is made to pay your benefits from the plans accurately, but mistakes may occur occasionally. The Plan Administrator or Claims Administrator will make corrections that it deems appropriate, such as requiring a participant to repay an overpayment to the applicable plan, making an additional payment to an underpaid participant, adjusting future benefit payments, or other actions as necessary to correct errors or omissions. You or your family member will be notified if a plan determines that a mistake was made.

Right of Recovery

Payments are made in accordance with the provisions of the plans. If it is determined that payment was made for benefits that are not covered by the applicable plan, for a participant who is not covered by the applicable plan, when other insurance is primary or other similar circumstances, the plan has the right to recover the overpayment. The plan will try to collect the overpayment from the party to whom the payment was made. However, the plan reserves the right to seek overpayment from you and/or your dependents or beneficiary. Failure to comply with this request will entitle the plan to withhold benefits due to you and/or your dependents or beneficiary. The plan has the right to refer the file to an outside collection agency if internal collection efforts are unsuccessful. The plan may also bring a lawsuit to enforce its rights to recover overpayments. For medical claims, the plan will not seek overpayments, except in the case of nonpayment of premiums, fraud, or intentional misrepresentation.

Other Documents Incorporated by Reference

The terms and conditions of the plans are set forth in this Benefits Handbook, insurance policies/evidence of coverage, and benefits booklets/summaries related to the benefits under the plans. Together, these documents are incorporated by reference into the formal plan documents and constitute the written instruments under which the plans are established and maintained. An amendment to one of these documents constitutes an amendment to the plans.

This summary should be read in connection with the applicable insurance policy/evidence of coverage or benefits booklet/summary provided by the applicable insurers or Claims Administrators. Unless otherwise noted, if there is a conflict between a specific provision under the Benefits Handbook and a benefit booklet/summary or insurance policy/evidence of coverage, the Benefits Handbook controls. If the Benefits Handbook is silent, the terms of the applicable insurance policy/evidence of coverage or benefits booklet/summary controls. However, with respect to fully insured benefits, the terms of the certificate of insurance coverage or insurance policy/evidence of coverage control when describing specific benefits that are covered or insurance-related terms.
